

Today in the Quad-Cities Tentative teachers' agreement

Tentative agreement has been reached between the Granite City school district and Local 743 of the American Federation of Teachers, it was announced at Tuesday night's school board meeting.

A ratification vote has been set for Aug. 21 by faculty members.

Craft unions have waived their right to reopen talks on their agreement, which lists a formula applied to prevailing craft pay rates. Members will receive any fringe benefits added for other school employees.

Talks are to resume after Aug. 21 with Service Employees Local 98, which represents custodians, secretaries and cafeteria workers. A successor is to be named to Edwin Reiske, who resigned as business agent of the local.

All working agreements ended this summer and Local 98 is continuing to work pending completion of its negotiations.

Details of the proposed Local 743 two-year agreement were not released but it was said to include a salary increase.

Donald Schaffner headed the teacher's negotiating team. Harold Hillmer has been coordinator for the board-administration team in the talks with Locals 743 and 98.

Negotiators for Local 743 were praised at the board meeting as being knowledgeable and responsible in their approach.

BRIDGE REPAIR WORK is beginning today; traffic will continue to use Venice's McKinley Bridge, however. Shown inspecting the western approach Wednesday are (left to right) Bridge Manager Duane Georgeff, Mayor William Ebersoldt, Tyrone Echols,

Maryville bids in fall

Construction of the Maryville Road extension from Pontoon Road to Highway 162 is expected to get underway this year, with a construction contract awarded possibly by late September, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Granite City Council Monday night.

Schuler said virtually all of the right-of-way needed for the city's portion of the project has been obtained, and that while some difficulty has been encountered with one easement in the vicinity of Terminal Avenue, he is certain the problem will be resolved soon to complete the easement requirements.

The mayor's announcement came in response to an inquiry by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward who has strongly supported the Maryville Road improvement as a means of relieving traffic congestion in the Nameoki shopping areas. Parmley consistently has urged more speed in developing the program.

The plan, originally developed by Madison County as a joint county-city project with both governments paying a share of the cost, calls for extension of Maryville Road from Pontoon Road southward to connect with Highway 162, thus providing a highway that would skirt the eastern edge of the city and partially relieve the heavy traffic on Nameoki Road.

Maryville Road already connects with Highway 203 (Nameoki Road) on the north. Schuler told the Press-Record that he is certain the city can finance the project without difficulty, although the city's share has risen during the past five years from an estimated $350,000 in 1970 to a present cost of about $800,000.

Since cost estimates of the improvement now totals approximately $3 million, compared to $1.8 million in 1970, the county share would amount to about $2.2 million.

City officials have had under study a proposal by which Madison County would assist the city in financing its share of the work. Under that plan, the city would pay its share of construction work out of motor fuel tax funds, but if it reached the point it could no longer meet its commitments, the county would advance the money to the city, to be repaid out of Granite City motor fuel tax income as it is received.

Such a program would require agreements approved by both the County Board and the Granite City Council. No such agreements have yet been presented.

Madison County has secured the right-of-way needed for its portion of the improvement.

Armed robbery

Two men wearing stocking masks, one armed with a .38 caliber pistol, robbed the Lord Nelson's store, 4023 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, of $135 and took $50 from the clerk at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday.

While the store clerk, Ronald E. Keaton, was waiting on a customer, two men entered the main door, one holding a pistol and told Keaton, "Give me your wallet."

After taking the wallet, the robber, with the gun, emptied the cash register and put the money in a brown paper sack.

The other robber stayed by the front door and did not speak during the incident.

Forcing the customer and the clerk into the rear of the store, the man with the gun warned them to remain there until they were gone.

One man was described as 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, about 25 years of age and wearing a green Army fatigue type jacket and blue jeans. The other man was described as 5 foot 9 inches tall, in his early 20s with light colored hair.

School taxes may not rise

It may be possible to "hold the line" on school taxation, the Granite City Board of Education noted Tuesday night in tentatively approving a 1975-76 budget of $22,490,683, an $800,873 rise over the previous $21,689,810 budget.

Subject to assessment fluctuations, the school district estimates a 1975 tax rate 1976 collection of $3,7182, compared with last year's estimated $3,7492 and actual $3,7070.

Big Venice school debt is foreseen

A tentative 1975-76 budget for operation of Venice schools during the present fiscal year has been set at $2,331,381 in an appropriation bill posted for review by the Venice Board of Education.

The new budget measure which includes anticipated expenditures for the elementary schools, high school and the Venice Lincoln Technical center, projects a $418,888 deficit. All revenue in the school district's six separate accounts is estimated at $1,814,483.

School Superintendent Robert Vickers said the shortage in revenue will require the sale of about $500,000 in anticipation warrants to meet budgeted expenditures, and that about $100,000 of those warrants necessarily will be in "second-year" tax warrants.

Second-year warrants, Vickers explained, means that they are sold against the second year of anticipated tax collections because the district's statutory authority is not extensive enough to raise the full amount of needed money in liens against the next tax collection.

On this basis, the district would borrow about $400,000 to be repaid from 1975 taxes collected in 1976, and the remaining $100,000 to be repaid from 1976 taxes collected in 1977, Vickers said.

The overall school district budget is $176,117 higher than the $2,055,264 budgeted for all purposes in all schools last year, but Vickers explained that when federal expenditures are taken out of the budget, the increase actually amounts to over $800,000.

Title I and Title VII expenses which are included in the budget, amounting this year to $300,880, are paid by the federal Property tax rates are based on $100 assessed valuation. The projected figures are $2.55 for education, 42.32 cents for bonds and interest, 37.5 cents for the operations, building and maintenance fund, 25 cents for employee retirement and 12 cents for transportation.

Proposed school tax levies total $8,365,886, compared to the 1974 levy 1975 collection of $8,172,110.

A breakdown lists $5,737,500 ($5,560,871 a year ago) for education, $883,245 ($869,963) for bonds, $843,750 ($817,872) for building maintenance, $582,500 ($518,050) for retirement and $270,000 ($261,675) for pupil transportation.

Tentative budget figures are $19,011,128 for education, up $551,908; $1,222,375 for buildings, up $87,040; $1,087,000 for bonds, up $112,957; $628,150 for transportation, up $22,670; and $544,000 for municipal retirement, up $26,298.

The 1975-76 budget will be on public display Aug. 11 to Sept. 16.

Final action is planned by the board immediately after a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16. The fiscal year runs from July 1975 to June 1976.

Superintendent of Schools Bob J. Davis said in a report to the board, "At the time this tentative budget is presented, there are unanswered questions as to how much revenue will be received from the state of Illinois."

"The state legislature passed

Coleen Caton marries Armin W. Bernhardt

The Rev. Arvin Truettmeyer performed a double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock on the evening of July 26, uniting in marriage Miss Coleen Lynn Caton and Armin William Bernhardt.

Palms and bouquets of gladiolus and white mums decorated the altar for the service. Organist Mrs. June Barton accompanied Laura Feeche, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Let Us Ever Walk with Jesus" and "Jesus Stand Beside Them."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Caton, 6 Lakeview Drive. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lydie Bernhardt, reside on Rural Route One, Dorsey, Ill.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Caton selected a gown of white tulle featuring a scoop neckline, Empire waist and long puffed sleeves, accented with Chantilly trim.

Her cathedral length veil was bordered with wide lace and she held a cascade of white cymbidium orchids, carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Carrie Caton, a sister of the bride and the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Caton, also a sister, Marcy Bunch and Teri McMurray, cousins of the bride, and Elaine Litzelman, were identical sons.

Their dresses were fashioned of voile and complemented with dotted swiss jackets and picture hats in shades of lavender, blue, green, yellow and pink.

They held bouquets of daisies and baby's breath in colors to match their attire.

Crista and Jamie Bernhardt, nieces of the groom, served as flower girls and wore long white dresses of floxed dotted swiss and picture hats. Each carried a basket of daisies.

Chad Bernhardt, a nephew of the groom, and Jack Brandon were the ringbearers.

The groom chose his cousin, Terry Heimkamp, as best man. Steve Heimkamp, another cousin, John Colley, Myron Weimers, Keith Krainer, James Brennan, the bride's uncle, and Wayne Singleton, the groom's brother-in-law, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home.

Mrs. Caton, mother of the bride, appeared in a lime green dress and jacket ensemble. The groom's mother, Mrs. Bernhardt, chose a sleeveless gown of pale blue polyester. Both wore white orchid corsages.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School North. Her husband was graduated from Edwardsville High School and is employed by Prairieview Feed Service in Dorsey.

They are now residing in Dorsey following a wedding trip to Branson, Mo.

Miss Brenda Sawyer and Steve Umphress are wed

Burning pink tapers in branched candelabra and tall urns holding arrangements of pink gladiolus, lavender mums and greenery provided the setting for the wedding at Nameoki United Methodist Church on Aug. 2 of Miss Brenda K. Sawyer of Arlington Heights, Ill., and Steve Umphress of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sawyer, 4005 Sara St. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Umphress, reside at 523 Lincoln St., Minook, Ill.

A reception for 300 guests was held at the church fellowship hall following the ceremony, with Miss Donna Sigman, a cousin of the bride, presiding over the guest book. Also assisting were Miss Sue Roebottom of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Dan Gallagher of Decatur, Ill.

The Rev. William Fester performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Dave Long presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Wendy Yanke of Arlington Heights, a former college roommate of the bride.

Supt. selections included "Wedding Prayer," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Sawyer escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. Her gown of white sate peau was made with an empire bodice featuring a square neckline edged with Chantilly lace and tiny appliques of Venice lace.

Full bishop sleeves were cuffed with matching lace. The gown formed an apron effect on the A-line skirt, which swept into a lace-trimmed chapel train.

A tiered veil of white nylon illusion, secured to a cap of Venice lace appliques, was designed and made by the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of white Sweetheart roses, white baby's breath and ivy.

The attendants selected long gowns of sheer pink and orchid floral print over pink nylon. Angel-style sleeves formed a cape at the back and the waistlines were accented with tassels.

Each wore an orchid picture hat and held a colonial bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses, orchid daisy mums and pink Elegance carnations, interspersed with white baby's breath.

Mrs. Richard Skirball served as honor attendant and the bridesmaids were Miss Linda Krohne, Mrs. Doug Sawyer, a sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Wesley Ehler of Honolulu, Hawaii and Mrs. Ray Schneider of Bloomington, Ill., the groom's sister.

The groom chose his brother, Gary Umphress, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Richard Skirball, Doug and Tom Sawyer, brothers of the bride, and Ray Schneider, the groom's brother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Umphress, parents of the groom, entertained members of the wedding party at a dinner given at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville on the evening prior to the wedding.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sawyer selected a long gown of mint green chiffon designed with a V-neckline and an overlay of green Venetian lace on the bodice. Lace encircled the waistline and trimmed the cuffs of the full sleeves. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother was attired in an apricot polyester formal length dress. Her gown was made with a jewel neckline and long chiffon sleeves. She wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow Sweetheart roses.

A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride was graduated in 1973 from Illinois State University at Normal where she received a bachelor's degree in home economics. She is a member of Kappa Omicron Phi and prior to her marriage taught at the Lake Zurich (Ill.) Junior High School.

Mammoth bicycle ride Aug. 24

Over 10,000 cyclists are expected to participate in the twelfth annual "Moonlight Rumble" bicycle ride, beginning at 2 a.m., regardless of weather, on Sunday, Aug. 24, at Kneier Plaza, 6th and Market Streets, St. Louis.

The American Youth Hostels-Ozark Area Council sponsors the "Rumble," which is the nation's biggest regularly scheduled ride. Many Illinoisans are among the participants. Entrants follow a 17-mile route through city streets closed to traffic. A rest stop is provided at Berra Park, Shaw and Macklind Avenues, before the riders return downtown. The "Moonlight Rumble" is an invitational event open to bicyclists of all ages. According to Ed Friedrich, chairman, "Even novices will enjoy this easy-paced tour." "Because of the crowd expected, we urge participants to arrive downtown no later than 1 a.m.," he said. All riders are required to complete an entry form and pay $1 registration fee. Children under age 14 must be accompanied by an adult. Entry forms may be purchased in advance at any Famous Barr store, or may be purchased at the "Moonlight Rumble," beginning at 12 midnight. Included in the registration fee is accident insurance to cover bodily injury to any rider while participating in the ride. A limited number of jacket patches, commemorating the "Moonlight Rumble," will be on sale for $1 and may be purchased at the registration tables prior to the ride. A total of 8,000 entrants of all ages and riding all types of bikes participated in the 1974 event, with some riders coming from Japan and Tunisia and such U. S. cities as Seattle.

"The Moonlight Rumble is our council's biggest event each year," reports Steve Reker, president of the American Youth Hostels council. "It enables us to operate our council office, provide a varied program of activities — which include cycling, hiking, canoeing, cave exploring and sailing — and to develop hostels in this area." Further information on the bicycle rumble and a complimentary copy of the AYH newsletter may be obtained by writing: AYH, 2005 S. Big Bend Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63143. The office telephone, staffed part time, is (314) 644-3500.

Research is brightening steel's outlook

To the untrained eye, a steel company research laboratory might resemble something out of Walt Disney's "Fantasia." The electrical arcing of a 1.5-million-volt electric arc furnace, which reveals steel's internal structures on a scale equal to atomic dimensions, would stagger anyone's imagination.

Steel industry research is concerned with the strength and properties of steel, with the methods for producing it and improving yields.

It is concerned with decreasing the usage of hard-to-get raw materials and with reducing the cost of producing steel. Also, there is the effort to conserve energy and replace present energy sources with new alternative ones.

Research responds to the demands of the market place. The demand for greater strength, lightweight steel is particularly high among automobile manufacturers, who are doing everything possible to lighten the car to compensate for the added weight of emission control devices and as a result increase fuel economy.

Frank M. Richmond, vice president-technical director, Universal-Cyclops Specialty Steel Division, says increased emphasis on corrosion resistance of carbon and alloy steel as well as stainless—especially for highly corrosive environments, improved formability of carbon and alloy flat rolled products and superior machinability of carbon, alloy and stainless bar.

Other product forecasts indicate a resurgence of alloys with long-term performance and reliability to permit minimum maintenance and maximum equipment utilization, electrical steels for power generation and distribution, steel foil, high-nitrogen stainless steel and improved steel-based container material.

William A. Reed, research director, Republic Steel Corp., predicts increased production of high strength, carbon steels. "As our customers learn how to use the high strength steels which have good formability," he says, "we'll be producing more and more of them."

Steelmaking consumes five per cent of the total U.S. energy supply, so the industry has a keen interest in the quest for new energy sources.

More efficient coal mining systems and machinery, improvements in coal cleaning techniques and the development of coal conversion processes for producing gaseous or liquid fuels may lessen some of the energy shortage.

The steel industry is also studying the potential use of nuclear energy in meeting some of the nation's future steelmaking requirements.

It is anticipated that nuclear energy will have to take over an increasingly greater proportion of the job now done by coal. The magnitude of this type of project, however, might not only necessitate joint effort among the steel companies, but also make federal assistance essential.

Steel company researchers are perfecting steel products which are vital in searching out petroleum sources. The key in building oil rigs is tubular steel. Seamless specialty tubing is used for oil well tubing. Construction and specialty steels are used for offshore drilling, production rigs and new refineries.

Stainless and heat resistant alloy tubing and carbon and alloy processing tubing are used in processing plants and power stations.

Although the steel industry is continuously developing new products and product improvements that fill countless needs in "Quad-City" and everyday lives, the energy shortage, emphasis on environment and inflationary factors have reinforced the role of process research.

Technology and equipment are under constant surveillance in an effort to innovate new steelmaking and steel processing methods and refine established ones.

"In this period of inflation, the need for improved productivity in processing can only spiral in importance," comments George F. Tisnail, chief metallurgist for Babcock & Wilcox Co.

"Product research will continue, but not with the intense emphasis that will be placed on process research." What research trends can we expect to see in the 1970s? Direct reduction and its benefit would be on the list.

Direct reduction bypasses the blast furnace in converting iron ore to iron. Ore beneficiation improves the quality of iron-bearing minerals as they are found in their natural state.

Coal-substitute processes and coal gasification—the process of treating coal to derive a gas which can be used as a fuel or energy source—will also be the subject of considerable research.

The computer will play a greater role in research in increasing the efficiency of the steelmaking operation.

Process control systems will be given increased emphasis to meet the challenges of improved productivity, higher labor costs and better dimension control of product (consistent or uniform size).

"Through the use of good process control systems in combination with good management control systems, substantial productivity gains can be made with a relatively modest investment of capital," remarks Donald J. Blackwee, vice president, research, Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Edward J. Dulis, president, Crucible Materials Research Center, Colt Industries, feels there will be increased research on in-line quality control (regulation of the product through each step of the steelmaking process) to minimize rejections and increase product yields.

Research on the development of inspection and testing equipment—especially non-destructive testing for quality assurance—will be stepped up. Large sheets of steel are inspected for uniform thickness by an ultrasonic gauge.

Rolled steel bars pass through an eddy-current tester (an electrical whirlpool) which checks for internal defects by changes in an electro-magnetic field around the bar.

One laboratory device even detects and tabulates the number of pinhole defects in tinplate at speeds up to 5,000 feet per minute.

On the environmental front, the goal is to close the cycle of steelmaking by keeping as many waste products as possible within the system. A second objective is to create useful byproducts for revenue.

Techniques are being tested for collecting steel plant dusts, fumes and oily wastes so that they can be reused. Steelmaking dust is so fine that it blows out of the furnace. A new method collects the dust, heats it and compacts it while it is still hot so that it is not expelled from the furnace.

A high density sludge process under investigation neutralizes acid mine waters from coal mines and also neutralizes acid rinse waters from steel pickling operations.

Two steel companies are working together on a process that recovers sulfur compounds from coke oven gas and converts them to elemental sulfur. The process also avoids the air pollution that accompanies burning sulfur-containing coke oven gas.

A study is being done on converting iron oxide fumes, which are recovered in basic oxygen furnace (BOF) dust collectors into a recyclable oxide pellet that can be recharged into BOF furnaces.

Work is also in progress on a system to recover the iron oxide contained in sludges from slab, plate and strip mills and to prepare the recovered oxide for recycling through the sinter plant.

Steelmakers are examining the environmental impact of various schemes for the treatment of coke-plant wastewaters. When coal is turned into coke for use in blast furnaces, one of the undesirable wastes is water containing a small amount of phenol.

Sufficient quantities of phenols can kill fish and make chlorinated water taste and smell unpleasant. An Eastern steelmaker discovered bacteria that feeds on phenols and has constructed a biological oxidation plant for treating coke plant waste liquids. The bacteria devour the phenols and convert them into carbon dioxide and water.

Research laboratories are looking at ways to conserve energy in the coke operation where coal is baked into coke for the blast furnace. The high sulfur coking coals are converted into low sulfur coke, pellets or briquettes with the following advantages:

1. There is a general coke shortage in this country and the process allows the use of lower grades of coal for coke.

2. The process provides a desirable distribution of feedstocks.

3. Fuel gas, although not a large part of the end product, is still an extremely useful one. So, in addition to producing coke chemical feedstocks, steelmakers can produce fuel gas directly from coal.

Will the high cost of product and process development in the steel industry justify joint research among steel companies?

"It will only be through cooperative research and government support that costly programs can be undertaken," L. F. Weltzien believes. He is senior vice president of research and technology for Armco Steel Corp.

John H. Gross, U.S. Steel Corporation's research director, expresses what seems to be an industry consensus:

"I think all of the steel companies recognize today that no one has a corner on the technical talent in the world. Consequently, it's absolutely necessary that information be exchanged so that there isn't an unnecessary duplication of development."

The American Iron and Steel Institute (AISI) provides one medium for exchanging information on such research. AISI sponsors fundamental research in two primary areas. One area deals primarily with iron and steelmaking and the metallurgical aspects of mill products. The other deals with the applications of these mill products.

AISI does not have its own laboratory. Therefore, institute-sponsored research is carried out at academic institutions and by non-profit research organizations.

When the ultrasonic grating and electronic pulsating cease at the end of each workday in the laboratory, the researcher leaves with a "pyramid of interactions" in his thoughts.

Closing the gap between principle and practice is a "real mindbender," the steel researchers conclude.

'Bowling Bee' benefit to provide 48-hour program

Dancing to the music of a band from the National School of Music and a junior bowling tournament, both beginning at midnight tomorrow, will help kick off the 48-hour muscular dystrophy "bowling bee" at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road.

A carnival atmosphere will prevail throughout the two-day event which concludes at midnight Sunday. The program is planned to raise money to help fight muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases.

Activities will be held both inside the building and outside on the parking lot continuously with many Quad-City-area residents, dignitaries and sports figures contributing their services in conducting various events.

Tony Sodl, manager of the local bowling lanes, said many people have agreed to donate their time and effort in helping to make the fund-raising event a success.

Among those who will assist in activities are: Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler; Pontoon Beach Mayor Floyd David Moss; Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk; Madison Juvenile Office Donald Bridick and "Sgt. Otto"; David Lee, Will Ramo; Tim VanGelder, Channel 4 TV; John Auble, Channel 5 TV; Bob Baker, WGN Radio; Robin Lowery, WSEI Radio; Ken Thompson, Granite City Press-Record.

Marge Salem School of Dancing, John Apperson, magician, bands conducted by David Hilla, Terry Dutko, Jerry Stoner and Kevin Bryant and the "Big Joe's On the Run" and Dennis Locandro and his "Flying Saucer" automobile, and others.

Scheduled times have been announced by Sodl for some of the activities: Saturday — 15-girl talent show, 1 p.m.; kissing booths, 1:30 — 6 p.m.; Terry Dutko's Band, 5:30 — 7 p.m.; Marge Salem Dancing School, 7 p.m.; Kevin Bryant's Band, 7:30 — 9 p.m.; David Hilla's Band, 9 — 11 p.m.; and Apperson will perform his magic act in the "300" room at 9:30 p.m.

Sunday — David Lee conducting an auction, 1 p.m.; kissing booths, 1:30 — 6 p.m.; Beeline fashion show, 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.; Jerry Stoner's Band, 2:30 p.m.; Marge Salem Dancing School, 4 p.m.; and the last of four scheduled auctions will be conducted at 8 p.m.

The Jerry Green Dance Studios will present performances at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Four young ladies will serve in one kissing booth: Rose Marie Boyd, Linda Fulcher, Rosemary Overstreet, and Cathy Martin — while eight men will serve in a second booth — Gary Brooks, Bob Gaughan, Ken Thompson, Robin Lowery, Kenny Schrader, Bob Wentz Jr., Kris Krohn and Mike Wallace.

Some of the activities which will operate around the clock

BEAUTY AND TALENT are among those who will assist in activities here Saturday and Sunday during Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl's muscular dystrophy fund-raising, 48-hour "bowling bee," at 3701 Nameoki Road, which begins at midnight Friday, and ends at midnight Sunday. Assisting in one of two kissing booths will be Miss Cathy Martin of Kirkwood, Mo., (left), a recent "bikini" contest winner at Tri-City Speedway, and David Lee, a disc jockey, who will conduct one of many auctions during the event.

are: a car wash, horse and buggy rides, bowling competition between youthful bowlers and Tri-Mor Bowl's regular summer league teams, a "Masked Marvel" will challenge persons to bowling matches, a dunking booth operated by area softball teams, Happy the Clown and his dog and Bucky Ray the Clown, a "beat the jar" game conducted by the Roxana Youth National Trail Club, a pinball tournament, an auto racing vehicle display and a variety of games. Prizes will be given every hour.

Sodl said youngsters may have their pictures taken on a giant elephant on wheels, the "flying saucer," and any of the racing vehicles by a photographer who will be on hand during the event.

Scheduled are a three-game bowling series between the Granite City Police and Fire Departments, "red pin" bowling and a "slave" auction conducted by Mayor Schuler and others.

At the conclusion of David Lee's auction Sunday, a new bicycle will be awarded to the

3 games Sunday for Mercer squad

While four participating baseball teams in the Illinois Inter-City League take to the diamond Sunday for scheduled single contests, Mercer and Highland-Pierron will play three games the same afternoon, beginning at one o'clock at Pierron.

Mercer and the Highland-Pierron squad will compete in a regularly scheduled contest and also attempt to make up a doubleheader which was postponed because of rain July 6.

One of the makeup contests will resume play in the eighth inning, with Highland leading 5-2.

"On Sunday, the games will make us or break us as far as making the playoffs next month," says Mercer Manager Larry Corey. "We'll have to win two of the three just to stay in the running."

Mercer, presently deadlocked in fifth place in the league standings with Fairfax — both have 9-11 records — could move up in the standings with a sweep of Sunday's contests. Highland-

Pierron heads the standings at 12-7.

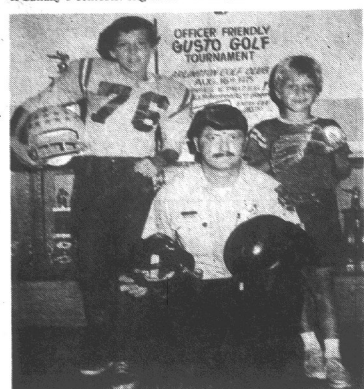

Presently in second place are the East Alton Vans at 10-8. Troy and Panama are tied for third with 8-9 records.

The Vans are scheduled to meet Fairfax Sunday and Troy will be at Panama the same day; both games will start at 2 p.m.

A meeting of league representatives will be held tomorrow evening, however, to determine the fate of the Troy squad, which forfeited a doubleheader early this week to the Vans when Troy failed to field a full team.

League rules state that a team which forfeits two contests during the season is automatically expelled from competition for the remainder of the year.

Mercer hurler Mark Boone, with a 4-2 record, is slated to finish the delayed contest Sunday and start the second game. John Piechocinski, at 2-0, will start on the mound in the third game.

Rain prevents cycle racing

Heavy rain here Tuesday forced cancellation of the evening's American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned racing program at Tri-City Speedway. As a result, Danny Kirkland of Milledale will have to wait until next Tuesday to attempt to capture his sixth feature race win of the season.

Reduced price at park pool

The Wilson Park swimming pool will be available for use by residents holding park identification cards from 1 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at a reduced admission price of 50 cents. The Granite City Park District has announced.

Another reduced price period will be held Friday, Aug. 22, all residents holding season passes will be admitted at the reduced price on those dates.

Feel like demolishing something?

Crash! Crunch! Bang! No, it is not a pileup of autos on a highway, but rather a future massive pileup of automobiles on the dirt track at Tri-City Speedway.

On Wednesday, Aug. 13, Quad-City area drivers will match their wits and machines against each other in an annual demolition derby, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The idea of the sport is for drivers to use the rear of their autos as "boxing gloves" and the front of other competing cars as punching bags, with the thought of immobilizing the cars until there is only one survivor.

Cars can survive crashes in the back better than front end damage.

Rules for competition are simple: All American-made passenger cars and station wagons may compete; but

The event provides an opportunity for persons to compete for prize money and also relieve everyday frustrations and tensions by releasing them on automobiles.

A competitor at such an event held at the Madison County Fair says, "I have never had the opportunity to compete in auto racing, and to me the demolition derby is probably the closest I'll ever be to competing in the sport."

"Besides," he added, "when I get behind the wheel it is as if I'm in a different world, where I can unleash all my anxieties on the track, and not on the highway. I found that it's fun."

The idea of the sport is for drivers to use the rear of their autos as "boxing gloves" and the front of other competing cars as punching bags, with the thought of immobilizing the cars until there is only one survivor.

Cars can survive crashes in the back better than front end damage.

Rules for competition are simple: All American-made passenger cars and station wagons may compete; but convertibles, trucks, jeeps or foreign cars cannot.

All glass, including headlights and taillights, must be removed, except for the windshield.

All vehicles must have approved seat belts secured to the floor, and all drivers must wear crash helmets.

Participants will seek to be driving the lone surviving auto in order to collect the lion's share of the $1,200 in prize money, and a trophy.

South deadline on cross-country

Granite City High School South athletes who are planning to tryout for cross-country must obtain physical and parent permission forms from the high school's main office and return them by the Aug. 13 practice date.

South's cross-country mentor, Richard "Dick" Harmon, issued a reminder of the deadline this week.

North football equipment dates

Issuance of equipment to prospective players in Granite City High School North's fall football program will begin tomorrow, Tom Wyrostek, coach of the football Steelers reports. Pre-season practice will get under way at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 13, at the school.

The equipment issuance schedule at North's gymnasium is:

Tomorrow — 10 a.m. for varsity; Monday — 6 p.m. for sophomores; and Tuesday — 6 p.m. for freshmen.

Wyrostek also reminds prospective players that physical and parent permission forms, available from the school office during regular office hours, must be completed and returned before the first day of practice.

FIRE DAMAGES CAR
Granite City firemen responding to a fire at 2509 Grand Ave. at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday which caused $50 damage to a 1966 auto, believe a burning cigarette in the back seat caused the blaze. They were on the scene 15 minutes. The owner was not identified.

LITTLE RASCAL FOOTBALL PLAYER. Kenny Maier, seven, a member of the Granite City Little Rascal Tackle Football Club's Junior Pee Wee division, demonstrates the "uniform and playing equipment furnished team members by the local organization. Bob Patrick, a club spokesman, stresses that safety is first among managers and coaches of each of the three participating divisions. Players are issued, in addition to a uniform, helmets, shoes and shoulder and knee pads. Last season, the Maier boy weighed 42 pounds. His team finished the season with a 6-3 record. The club's three divisions which will begin pre-season practice Monday are: Pee Wee — boys who will not reach the age of 11 before Sept. 2 and who weigh 85 pounds or less, and 11-year-old boys who weigh 75 pounds or less; Junior Pee Wee — boys weighing 65 pounds or less, and who will not be nine years old before Sept. 2; and Midget — boys weighing 115 pounds or less and who will not reach the age of 13 before Sept. 2, and also 13-year-old boys who weigh 100 pounds or less.

Sports Club again fourth in state men's softball tourney

A Granite City men's softball team has not captured the Illinois Amateur Softball Association Men's Class AA state tournament since Clark's Vikings took top honors in 1960, but the Granite City Metro-East Merchants nine, nicknamed the Sports Club, now has the record of earning fourth place at state three years straight, including 1975.

At the state tournament which concluded this week at Rock Island, the Sports Club finished fourth in a Class AA meet which saw Decatur sweep through the championship bracket without a loss and then defeat Alton in the tournament title contest Sunday.

Sports Club, managed by Stan Wojcik, defeated Victory Tavern 8-3 in Wilson Park here last month in district competition to capture its third straight district crown and the right to advance into state competition.

At Rock Island, Sports Club won its first-round contest 16-1 over Springfield Team Two, and then advanced in the championship bracket with a 7-3 win over Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307. Post 307 was the Granite City Park District's fifth-place entry from the local district meet.

Sports Club next fell into the losers' bracket in suffering a 10-1 loss to Collinsville's Herr Funeral Home.

The eventual fourth-place squad then swept to victory in three straight contests — 17-4 over Moline Team Two, 4-3 over Moline Team One in nine innings, and 13-5 over the East St. Louis Saints, last year's Class A state champions — before bowing 6-2 this week to eventual runnerup Alton.

Sports Club team members' averages and runs batted in during the state competition were: Nick Zajick, .715 and 14 RBIs; Kent Taylor, .580 and 10; Charlie Stephens, .479 and seven; Greg Patton, .479 and seven; Ed Hagmann, .467 and seven; John Bohnenstiel, .456; and Garry Hanson, .421.

Other participating players were Garry Hitt, Bill Evans, Ron Gryzwacz, John Conkovich, Tony Viviano, Paul Jackstad, and Jerry McKeahan.

All combined their talents this season for a 50-15 overall record.

Other Granite City Park District representatives at the state tourney, with state meet win-loss records, were: Millie and Mickey's 2-2, American Legion Post 307 2-2, Victory Tavern 2-2 and My Old School, 1-2.

Four local teams in tournament at Decatur

Fifty-six of the state's top men's softball squads will gather at Decatur this weekend to compete for the right to advance to a national tournament later this month at Providence, R.I.

The teams, including four from the Quad-Cities, will seek to become the overall champion of the Illinois Amateur Softball Association's men's state Class A slow-pitch tournament, which gets underway on Sunday, Aug. 17. All advanced to the state tourney via first-through fourth-place finishes in district meets.

Dale Campbell Agency, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 and Granite City Realty took the top four positions at a district meet hosted by the Granite City Park District. The tourney ended July 27 with Campbell topping Post 1300 for the championship.

Although the state competition begins today, Quad-City squads will not see action until tomorrow, when Granite City Realty plays Olney Team Two at 10:45 p.m.

Campbell drew a first-round bye and will play the winner of tomorrow's Latham-Springfield Team Two contest at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Also competing Saturday will be Post 1300 against Carbondale at 2 p.m., and Post 307 with Alton at 9:45 p.m.

A win by GC Realty would advance it to a 5 p.m. contest Saturday; win Saturday by Post 1300 would advance it to a 4 p.m. game that day; and a win by Post 307 would send it into a 7:30 p.m. contest Saturday.

If all four Quad-City representatives win all their contests on Saturday, they would enter into final rounds of competition starting Sunday. Losses Saturday would drop them into a loser bracket scheduled which starts Sunday, giving them a possible second shot at advancing to the championship contest Aug. 17.

Dupo meet to resume

The rain-delayed championship contest of the Illinois Amateur Softball Association women's slow-pitch state tournament at Dupo's Bryant Field could pit two Granite City squads against each other Saturday. The meet resumes at 8 a.m. Saturday, with 11 lower bracket contests and the title game remaining to be played.

Heavy rains during the weekend prevented conclusion of the tourney, in which the champion and runnerup will advance to a regional meet at Wilson Park Aug. 13.

Defending state champion Petrillo Produce is assured of at least runnerup honors in the double-elimination tournament, sweeping through the chamampionship bracket without a loss. Petrillo won four straight contests before defeating the Urbana Roadrunners 16-2 to advance into the title game against whatever emerges Saturday as the loser bracket representative.

Still in contention for the tournament title is Bill's Auto Body, which will meet the Petrillo squad at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Bill's won two contests before losing 15-5 to the Roadrunners on Aug. 1. Bill's must now win five games to meet Petrillo in Saturday's 9 p.m. title clash. Games are to be played Saturday at 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9 p.m.

Braves edged 3-2 last night

St. Louis Braves used three unearned runs to tip the Granite City Braves 3-2 last night in the Heine Moline tournament at Lemay, Mo.

The baseball Braves next will play in the state Khouy title game at Hobbs Field, Springfield, at 4 p.m. Saturday. The Illinois winner will advance to a series against the Missouri champion.

Next week, the Braves will vie in an East Alton tournament.

A throwing error led to a 3-0 deficit in the first inning last night but the Braves tied it in the fourth as Jim Cedar and Mike Clark walked. Randy Smith doubled and John Lakin hit a sacrifice fly.

An error and wild pitch led to the deciding run in the seventh, beating the Braves and Randy Lakin.

It was the seventh one-run loss of the year for the Braves, who threatened in every inning against the Cobras.

Park golf tourney will begin Sunday

The Granite City Park District is reminding persons wishing to participate in its fifth annual golf tournament, to be held Sunday, Aug. 10, at the Arlington Heights Golf Course, that they have only today and tomorrow to submit their registration forms to the Wilson Park office.

Forms are available at the park office, Skott's Jewelry Store, 1304 Nidgrah Avenue, Arlington Heights Golf Course, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank; First Granite City National Bank; and the American National Bank of Granite City.

Mike Jesse, park district recreation director, said special consideration will be given to registration forms submitted by senior citizens.

The event, limited to park district residents, requires an entry fee of $14 which is to be paid before noon Saturday at the park office.

Individuals participating in the two-day event will begin by shooting an 18-hole qualifying score Sunday. The final round will be played on Saturday. An eight-stroke shootout will be in effect. Trophies and numerous prizes will be given and refreshments will be served both days.

Water safety training for instructors

A water safety instructor training course is currently being conducted at the Alton YMCA on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 10:15 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The course, designed to train individuals in methods of teaching swimming and lifesaving skills, will continue through the next two weeks. Individuals will be qualified to teach and certify under the American Red Cross senior or advanced lifesaving certificate. Upon successful completion, individuals will be qualified to teach and certify under the American National Red Cross water safety program. There is no charge for the course.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Mike Braun at the Alton YMCA, 1-462-1066.

Grid equipment, practice drills at GCHS South

With the 1975 high school fall football practice set to start Aug. 13, Granite City High School South mentor Stan Wojcik reminds prospective Warrior players that physical certificates must be completed and returned to him at the school's gymnasium before that date.

Parent permission forms, available at the school's office, also are due at that time.

Wojcik also has announced a schedule for issuing playing equipment to football players.

On Monday, Aug. 11, varsity equipment will be issued at the South gym from 9 a.m. to noon and again from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, Aug. 12, sophomore equipment will be issued from 9 a.m. to noon and again from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Freshman equipment will be issued Wednesday, Aug. 13, at the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., and practice for freshmen will not begin until 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 18.

Races here Saturday; meet on noise today

St. Louis Auto Racing Association midget cars will join the regular late model and sportsman stock cars Saturday at Tri-City Speedway, beginning at 7:30 p.m., in what the track spokesman says might be the last time Promoter Ed Bloom will schedule a title racing program here.

The Gateway Auto Racing Association, sanctioning body of the weekly auto racing programs here, say the fate of future programs—and possibly auto racing in general throughout the state hinges on the outcome of an Illinois Pollution Control Board (IPCB) meeting today in Chicago.

IPCB members are meeting to consider adopting a motor-sport curfew to an Environmental Protection Agency regulation which makes effect Sunday. The rule requires that motor racing tracks conform to a 61-decibel noise limit at their property lines.

Violators could face fines as high as $10,000 and possibly face being shut down by the state agency.

The Illinois Association of Motorsports (AMS) has opposed the EPA's proposed regulation for two years, claiming the 61-decibel limitation cannot be met even if mufflers are required on all vehicles. They say that 61 is equivalent to the noise in a business office with typewriters in operation, phones ringing and people talking.

Hopes of motorsport activities being exempted from the regulation sagged in June when Senate Bill 193, which would have exempted racing tracks, was "pigeonholed" by the Illinois House. The General Assembly will reconvene in October.

The bill had passed in the Senate by an overwhelming majority.

Jacob Dumelle, PCB chairman, cited 26 formal noise complaints that have been made against 14 different tracks in the last five years as the reason for initiating the regulation.

According to an AMS spokesman, "The regulation will force many race tracks to close, causing Illinois to lose $120,000,000 in goods and services, 17,000 jobs and millions of tax dollars generated by our sport."

Bloom, a district director of the AMS, notes, "This country was built on belief in what is possible only if the board adopts the curfew proposal to the EPA regulation."

A 10:30 p.m. curfew has been submitted. Motorsports would be exempt from the regulation between the hours of 7 a.m. and 10:30 p.m.

"I understand that, under the regulation," said Bloom, "not only will tracks be required to conform to a property line noise limitation, but racing vehicles themselves will have to conform to a pre-set decibel limitation within 50 yards and also will be required to utilize mufflers."

Regardless of the outcome of today's meeting, Bob Wente Jr., current midget car point leader, will attempt to capture his first feature race win of the season here Saturday.

And late model driver Russ Wallace will seek his eighth feature race victory here while his son, Mike, looks forward to capturing his fourth sportsman division main event.

Boys' baseball tournaments in Venice next week

The Venice Park District will host three boys' baseball tournaments next week — Aug. 14 for Midget, age 11-13, Aug. 15 for Juvenile, age 14-16, and Aug. 16 for Sanitar, age 9-11, division teams.

John Henry Williams, director of the tournament, noted that team managers have until Tuesday, Aug. 12, to register their teams to compete in any of the three divisions. A fee of $15 per team is required and must be presented to Williams on the day of each division's tournament.

To register, managers are to send the name of their team and in which division they are to compete to Williams at 619 Washington St., Venice 62090. Additional information can be obtained by calling him at 877-1053.

Pursuit of status can be hazardous to pocketbook

Have you heard the new definition of debt?

Debt now is falling behind in payments. If you merely owe money, you are not really in debt — until you fall behind in repaying the money.

This new-think rationalization emerges from a nationwide survey by Yankelovich, Skelly and White, Inc.

The new definition of debt comes, ironically, at a time when it accurately describes the financial condition of a significant number of Americans.

The Family Economics Bureau has found signs in another survey that the under-25 generation shows a declining desire for the high standard of living that makes indebtedness common and sometimes burdensome.

But the attitudes of the new generation apparently have had little impact, so far, on facts such as these:

—Delinquency rates on installment loans in 1974 reached three percent — a 25-year high.

—Personal bankruptcy petitions increased nine percent during fiscal 1974 and are expected to increase 13 percent to about 245,000 — for the 1975 fiscal year.

—Nearly half the people who told the Yankelovich interviewers that their standard of living had declined said that they "can't make ends meet."

A new, more liberal concept of debt may be the means by which an increasing number of Americans are alleviating their distress about their personal financial reverses.

Economists explain their problem this way:

The dry winds of inflation have dehydrated many budgets to the point where they are too weak, after paying for necessities, to repay debts.

But why were so many people vulnerable to inflation in the first place?

"It is apparent," says the Family Economics Bureau, "that many consumers lowered their guard when they assumed monthly payments virtually equivalent to monthly income. Then inflation took advantage of the opening to deliver a hard blow to the budgetary solar plexus."

The fact that many consumers charged and borrowed too much may explain their present financial fix — although inflation obviously shares the blame.

Explaining the popularity of credit and borrowing, Sidney Margolius, a well-known writer on consumer affairs, says that Americans seek a display of affluence. Affluence, many people believe, is a sign of success. And a successful person enjoys greater status and social acceptance.

Some whose current incomes cannot support a show of affluence — apparently an increasing proportion of Americans — use credit instead of cash to achieve affluence.

Mary Quinn-Callman, assistant to the president of the non-profit National Foundation for Consumer Credit (NFFCC), which counsels people whose disdains for reality finally overcomes the patience of their creditors, says that the financial condition of many who consult NFFCC for help is so bad that they can't bear to look, so to speak.

They don't know how much they owe or their monthly payments.

"Most families ignore finance charges or simply are not aware of them," the American Family Report states.

Some people miscalculate their ability to repay a debt by measuring it against gross income, says Joseph Volz, manager of Consumer Credit Counseling Service of Minneapolis.

A charge-it mentality induced by easy credit obviously appeals to many consumers. For some, says the Family Economics Bureau, it is the only way to achieve the status and self-respect that Americans view as the benefits of affluence.

Other manifestations of this mentality are:

(1) Psychology of entitlement — "What was once the responsibility of the individual (good job, good standard of living) now is believed by one out of two to be a right — like unemployment insurance and Social Security," according to the Yankelovich-General Mills study.

(2) Prosperity Mentality — Some consumers bought in the blind belief that prosperity was here to stay, and so was their annual increase in income. But when they didn't get the expected raise, or when their work hours were reduced or their wives were laid off, they were unable to pay for their new boat or house or car.

(3) Compulsive shopping — The number one national sport is not baseball. It is shopping.

Shopping has carthartic value:

One couple told a debt counselor that for the husband the fun of shopping had been an antidote to the dreariness of his job.

(4) Luxuries and necessities — The intoxicating experience of long-term affluence has converted one-time luxuries into "necessities" that consumers felt they must own or their lives would be blighted.

A second car, a color TV and weekend trips now are defined as necessities, the American Family Report study found.

And so the good life, bought on time, became so alluring that millions could not resist it — even though they couldn't afford it.

Now, some of them are suffering the consequences, hastened by "stagflation," shrinking purchasing power and personal finances that can't stretch far enough to cover all expenses — despite cutbacks in food purchases and even needed medical care.

The Family Economics Bureau concluded that people with compulsive personalities or cavalier attitudes toward credit cards and charge accounts — and debt repayment — need self-restraint.

They owe it to themselves to learn the art of strategic hesitation preceding credit decisions, it is contended.

While they hesitate, they can think about what they earn and what they owe each month, what it costs to live — including the "little things" that have helped to bankrupt families — and whether they are equipped with insurance and savings to cope with emergencies like unemployment, serious illness or death.

A return to the "reactionary" concept of self-reliance, favored by the 19th Century American philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson, may save many hard-pressed consumers, the Bureau says.

It was Emerson who wrote: "Pay every debt as if God wrote the bill."

2011 Indiana Ave., operates the controls that fire Alan and his rocket from the launch pad. After being shot about 1,000 feet into the air, Alan parachuted to safety. The students are members of a summer rocketry class for fourth, fifth and sixth graders.

New dystrophy clinic opens

Opening of a new Muscular Dystrophy Association clinic at Grand Samaritan Hospital, Mount Vernon, brings the number of MDA free clinics within Illinois to ten. The MDA clinic program includes diagnostic examinations, medical, psychological and genetic counseling, physical therapy and prescription of orthopedic aids such as braces and wheelchairs. All services are offered free of charge to patients and their families with no test of financial need required. A total of 151 MDA free-clinics throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico and Guam serve patients with muscular dystrophy and related disorders. MDA District Director, Rex Fearey, said, "The mission of the Muscular Dystrophy Association is not only to support worldwide research to find effective treatments and cures for neuromuscular diseases, but also to provide the best possible care for the hundreds of thousands who are afflicted by these disorders. Our growing network of clinics is making help easily accessible to all people throughout the state and the country. "The expansion of our patient services program was made possible by the generous response of millions of Americans to MDA fund-raising campaigns. Children's Summer Carnivals Against Dystrophy, the House to House Appeal and the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon are major events in Illinois each year.

This year the Telethon will be broadcast on major network television channels from 9:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Aug. 31 and Sept. 1."

Extensive vandalism at a vacant house in the 2800 block of Lincoln Avenue was reported at 3:15 p.m. Monday by Sam Wolf, who said the damage included large holes kicked in the plasterboard walls, electrical wiring ripped out in the basement and doors and windows smashed. Wolf said a fire, recently started in one room by vandals, resulted in damage to the ceiling, walls and floor.

'Super fair' will open tomorrow at state fairgrounds

Music lovers will be sure to find their favorite kind of music at the grandstand shows during this year's Illinois State Fair, Aug. 8-17.

"Super Fair '75 will have one of the best lineups in years, truly offering something for everyone," State Fair Manager Paul H. King said today.

Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons, and Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass, will kick off the grandstand entertainment at Springfield with a bang tomorrow. The Four Seasons have earned 17 gold records from among the $3 million discs they have sold since 1962.

Popular country stars, Bill "Crash" Craddock, Bill Anderson and Donna Fargo, will headline the Saturday, Aug. 9, performance.

On Monday, Aug. 11, America is sure to draw younger crowds, "Sister Golden Hair," "Horse With No Name" and "Ventura Highway."

Bobby Vinton, who had more than one single records between 1962 and 1965, and other male recording artist, is expected to please both young and old when he makes his appearance at the grandstand Tuesday.

The Osmonds will be appearing Wednesday. Box seats for this show have been sold out.

Next Thursday, Aug. 14, brings singer Dionne Warwick to the fair, singing the Burt Bacharach hits that have brought her fame.

Television, movie, stage and night club star John Davidson will sing on Friday, Aug. 15. Davidson has starred in his own television series, has worked in several Walt Disney films and has been a frequent performer on both drama and variety shows.

Neva Bryant and George Kirby will appear on Saturday, Aug. 16. Kirby, no stranger to state fair audiences, has always received a warm welcome in Illinois, his home state. One of the top impressionists in the country, he is a frequent television guest star and will appear in his own television series this fall. Anita Bryant, former Miss Oklahoma, has been winning audiences for years with her rousing singing style.

The final grandstand show Sunday, Aug. 17, will feature vocalist Vikki Carr. At one point in her career, she had two albums and two singles among the nation's top 100 records.

According to Fair Manager King, a new policy will govern grandstand shows this year. There will be one performance nightly beginning at 8 a.m. and all seats will be reserved.

Ticket prices for grandstand shows are $5, $3, $2 and $1.

Two arrested

Judy L. Burcham, 18, of 3045 Marshall Ave., was charged with theft and Dennis G. Burcham, 19, of the same address, was charged with disorderly conduct following an incident in the 2000 block of Nameoki Road at 2:50 p.m. Monday.

A police officer said he was attempting to talk to persons with information concerning a previous incident when Burcham allegedly refused to stop making threats against four boys talking to the officer and was arrested.

The charge against Judy Burcham stemmed from a bicycle which was reported stolen on July 23 and later recovered and returned to its owner, police stated.

Tickets are being sold from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily in the ticket office on the second floor of the grandstand of the state fairgrounds.

Admission to Super Fair '75 Aug. 8-17 is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children 12 and under. Senior citizens 60 and over, and disabled citizens.

The Illinois State Fair is the largest agricultural fair in the country. With the hundreds of other attractions at the fair, many persons forget that—at least until they attend the fair. Then, even city dwellers are awe-struck by the many exciting agricultural events, King reports.

This year, agriculture promises to be even more prominent than in previous years.

"That may be a lot to expect, but with Agri-World, the Super Livestock Revue and the largest livestock show in the country, it's sure to happen," says King. "Agri-World has been moved and improved."

Newly located north of the sheep pavilion on an eight-acre plot near the fair livestock judging complex, it has two tents this year.

Inside the agri-business tent are exhibits of small agricultural machinery, short line equipment, agricultural suppliers and agricultural service companies. Large farm equipment is featured under the agricultural machinery canvas.

Other features of Agri-World include craft exhibits and demonstrations such as wool spinning, chair weaving, candle dipping and broom-making.

A large display of antique farm machinery occupies the northwest side of Agri-World. There is a Music Country beer garden near Conservation World.

An innovation at this year's fair is the new beef breeds tent, located next to the Coliseum on the east end of the cattle barns. Live animals and educational exhibits on seven newly-imported beef breeds will be among the displays in the tent.

The seven new breeds, all imported from European countries, are Limousin, Maine-Anjou, Simmental, Chianina, Murray Grey, Tarentaise and Puzosauer. An award for the best exhibit in the tent will be awarded at the championship livestock revue Aug. 13.

The second day of the fair, Aug. 9, has been designated as Illinois Agricultural Day and will be highlighted by a mini steam show, featuring several running models of oldtime steam-powered implements.

There will be a farm-city program, sponsored by Kwanan International, from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Aug. 9, honoring representative rural and urban families for their contributions to their communities.

The fair's nationally-acclaimed livestock show will have over 13,000 head of some of the finest livestock in the country and will offer over $217,000 in premiums to winners in the open and junior livestock contests.

The traditional grand championship livestock auction, "Super Sale," begins at 12:30 p.m. Aug. 12 in the Coliseum.

Coliseum and features the traditional grand champion steer, barrow and wether, plus the grand champion pen of broilers, a new addition to the auction from the fair's poultry judging division.

In addition to the showing of live animals, there will be beef, swine and sheep carcass divisions. Animals will be on display after being slaughtered and processed. The University of Illinois Agricultural Department will make a scientific appraisal of the carcasses.

"Through the carcass shows, we try to give urban dwellers a view of what it takes to produce the meat they eat," Dean Bartle, director of agricultural competitive events, comments.

The junior livestock division also plays an important role in the Illinois State Fair's agricultural events.

The division is open to boys and girls between nine and 19 who have been enrolled in 4-H or Future Farmers supervised program of agriculture or home economics during the past year. The juniors are eligible to show in three divisions: the Land of Lincoln division, the Junior division and the Open to World division. According to Bartle, this offers an opportunity for young persons to learn about showing animals and what it takes to have a winning animal.

The crowning event of livestock shows will be the Super Livestock Revue Aug. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Coliseum. The revue will feature country western singer Perlin Husky, the Illinois Country Opry and Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

There will be a parade of all the champion and grand champion livestock of this year's fair. And judging of six-horse hitch will take place at this time.

Agriculture at the fair does not encompass livestock alone, but also includes dairy and dairy products.

The Cook and Creamery, featuring foods derived solely from Illinois agricultural products, will be a new program at Super Fair '75. In addition to good eating offered by Illinois pork, egg and dairy products, Cook and Creamery will attract fairgoers and individuals through continuous live entertainment. It will be located in the grandstand plaza.

Invited guests will enjoy an "Illinois best" country breakfast and auction Aug. 9 at 7 a.m. at the Top of The Fair Super Club on the roof of the Illinois building. After a breakfast of eggs, ham, bacon, cheese, honey, biscuits, orange juice and milk—all Illinois farm products—auctioneer Jerry Lemmon will sell to the highest bidder the champion ham, bacon, cheese and honey. All products will be the winners in their respective contests at the fair.

A goal of the fair is to show visitors and residents why Illinois is the nation's leading agricultural exporting state and why the Illinois State Fair is known as America's largest agricultural exhibition.

With flowers, baking, textiles and crafts, it's also a woman's world at the State Fair. Over 100 displays, exhibits and demonstrations to educate and entertain women from all walks of life will highlight a greatly expanded "Women's World."

King relates that "both homemakers and career women make up an essential part of our society and they deserve the best. That's what we plan to give them in Women's World."

Housed on both floors of the fair's exposition building, Women's World exhibitors will offer visitors everything from tips on baking a cherry pie to organizing an effective day care center to a demonstration and discussion of martial arts.

Numerous groups and individuals will demonstrate traditional and contemporary crafts, skills and products from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily on the main floor stage in the exposition building.

Coordinator Karen Payne, noting that 1975 is International Women's Year, says Women's World will emphasize the woman's role in Illinois history, and spotlight efforts in continuing education for women.

"We hope it will reflect a broadened spectrum of women's roles, interests and potentials, without diminishing the traditional," Miss Payne says. Over $17,000 in premiums will be paid to Women's World exhibitors competing in floriculture, textile, hobbies, amateur art, professional art and open and junior culinary contests. Other featured demonstrations and exhibits will include gymnastics, photography, hats, poetry, textiles, hypnotism and various crafts.

Knut Apitz, a gourmet chef from Milwaukee, will give daily cooking demonstrations on the Expo Building stage, preparing exotic dishes as well as giving hints to help add sparkle to everyday cooking.

Earl Oyer, a pianist from Taylorville, will accompany the Jewel Chorus of the Jewel Tea Co. in stage performances at Women's World, and will also play during a fashion show hosted by Isabelle Pfeffer, superintendent of textiles and culinary. Oyer is the author of "1776," theme song of the Freedom Train.

Admission to the Women's World program area is free. Refreshments including pizza, popcorn, cotton candy, salt water taffy and orange drink will be sold at the Expo Building.

Numerous county fair queens will be on hand to greet visitors. The Illinois State Fair's Society Horse Show, a pre-fair event that offers $27,600 in premiums, is being held in the Coliseum Aug. 6-12.

The Society Horse Show, sanctioned by the American Horse Show Association, attracts breeders from across the U. S. and Canada. With the $10,000 added to this year's premiums, the Illinois State Fair ranks third in the world for horse show premium money offered. Open Division premiums total $72,400 and the Land of Lincoln Award premiums total $25,150.

Shows will be held today and Friday at 8:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Saturday at 7:30 p.m.; Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Monday at 12 and 7:30 p.m.

Admission to morning and afternoon horse shows will be free. Evening performance admission will be $3 for box seats and $2 for reserved seats.

Explorers sell light bulbs

A light bulb sale is underway by Pontoon Beach Police Explorer Post 255, according to Juvenile Officer Donald Patrick.

The young men are raising money for their post activity fund.

The light bulbs are being sold in "Thank You" packs for $2.25 each, containing 2-50 watt, 2-75 watt and 2-100 watt bulbs.

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has passed a resolution proclaiming the month of August as "Light Bulbs for Explorer Post 255 Activities Month." The village then purchased the first case of 30 packs of light bulbs.

Explorer fund-raising projects in the past enabled the newly organized police Explorers to attend a regional conference in Des Moines, Iowa, take a 30-mile float trip on Missouri's Current River, and an overnight backpacking trip to the campus of SIU at Edwardsville.

STEAL IMPLEMENTS

Intense Red China interest in Illinois

By EDWARD NEILAN
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The launching into orbit of a relatively sophisticated "agony-in-the-sky" satellite by the People's Republic of China in late July has reminded the world that Peking is a force to be reckoned with in the future.

For a nation whose intelligence and espionage apparatus was thought to be run mostly out of Chinatown restaurants around the world, the satellite launching served notice that space is not the private preserve of the Soviet Union and the United States.

China's latest satellite, the third that it has placed into orbit since 1970, coincided with a propaganda blast from Peking at the just-completed joint Soviet-American Apollo-Soyuz space exploit.

The Chinese event also came just as President Ford and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev were preparing for the meetings in Helsinki of the European Security Conference, a gathering that Peking has roundly criticized.

The immediate purpose of the Chinese satellite launching was as much practical as symbolic.

The launch was from the Shuang-Cheng-tze missile base at the edge of the Gobi Desert in Inner Mongolia. And the satellite was sent into an orbit that traversed the Sino-Soviet border, where Moscow has concentrated large numbers of nuclear-armed troops.

Peking characterized the satellite launch as part of its "preparedness against war."

Meanwhile, as the new map of Asia was being consolidated following the changes in Indochina, Peking seemed pleased with two developments regarding the United States.

These were the decision of the people of the Marianas Islands to become a commonwealth of the U. S., and the vote in the U. S. Senate to go ahead with construction of a Naval base on Diego Garcia Island in the Indian Ocean.

With the U. S. presence removed from the Southeast Asia mainland, China's main competition for influence is from the Soviet Union, which has a large naval force in Asia waters.

Peking has made it clear that it welcomes continued U. S. Naval activity in those waters to balance the Soviet naval buildup.

Since South Vietnam collapsed, China has gained new diplomatic ties with the Philippines and Thailand, further isolating the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan.

Continued U. S. recognition of Taiwan is the last "roadblock" to full Peking-Washington ties, the People's Republic says.

After Brezhnev completes his scheduled visit to the U. S. in October, President Ford is scheduled to visit Peking, perhaps in November.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger will go to China in October to pave the way for the Presidential trip.

The combination of the Indochina debacle, the satellite rattling by Communist North Korea, the general cautious mood of Congress and the 1976 U. S. Presidential election on the horizon make it unlikely that the U. S. will dump Taiwan and recognize Peking as part of the Ford visit.

But Peking goes about its lobbying tasks resolutely.

Invitations to Congressional delegations to visit China have been stepped up.

There is an interesting concentration on lawmakers from the Midwest in the latest travel groups to be announced.

Some speculation holds that China wants to become more friendly with legislators from the states that export wheat, of which China has been a major buyer.

Two Illinoisans, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Rockford, and Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Flossmoor, join Rep. John Slack, D-W. Va., as congressmen selected by the White House to make a trip to China in August.

Senators in the party are Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W. Va., Sen. James Pearson, R-Kansas, and Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga.

Another group scheduled to visit China will be led by both Illinois senators, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Republican, and Sen. E. Stevenson, Democrat.

Another Illinoisan, Rep. Paul Findley, R-38th District, will be in this group, as will Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., and Sen. Frank Church, D-Ida.

As for what the members of Congress will learn from their travels, that is open to question.

There are few, if any, Americans who know the inter-personal relationship well enough to speculate what succession problems Peking will confront when Chairman Mao Tse-tung and his trusted lieutenants are gone.

A collective leadership might well be able to move China on its path to modernization.

Lack of internal strife is needed to achieve what Premier Chou En-Lai has identified as China's goal of becoming a "powerful socialist country" within the next quarter century.

First private pensions established century ago

America's private pension industry, which today has over $300 billion in assets, began 100 years ago.

In 1875, a subsidiary of the American Express Co., the United States and Canada Express Co., instituted the nation's first private pension plan. The company funded the program and allowed all of its employees to become members, regardless of age.

Compared with today's plans, however, this first program was limited.

To be considered for a pension, an employee had to be at least 60 years old, have 20 years of continuous service with the company, and have a permanent disability preventing him from carrying out his duties.

After meeting these requirements, the employee had to be approved by the executive committee of the board of directors, upon the recommendation of the general manager.

If accepted, the employee would receive one-half of his average annual salary over the last 10 years before his retirement, with a maximum payment of $500 per year.

Thirty years after its creation, the American Express Company's plan had had only 310 employees qualify for pensions, with 160 of these still receiving payments at that time.

Of the 160, approximately 25 per cent had been messengers and 75 per cent were former officials, clerks, drivers and stablemen.

Their average monthly compensation was $62.50, and the average length of time between retirement and death was 5½ years.

Since this first plan, the private pension industry has grown extensively, benefiting both labor and management. In the opinion of many people, implementation of the 1974 Employee Retirement Income Security Act—ERISA (pension reform) on Jan. 1, 1975, with further implementation Jan. 1, 1976, is regarded as marking "a century of advancement" in the field.

Howlett said recreational vehicles are being licensed for a six-month period, with a minimum fee of $6.

Effective Jan. 1, 1976.

recreational vehicles will be changed to a calendar year registration. The change affects camper shells, vehicles and trailers.

Many get fewer food stamps than justified

Those who fail to report all living expenses may be receiving less food stamps than they are entitled to, the director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid reports.

James L. Trainor urges all participants and applicants to re-examine expenses and sources of income in an attempt to qualify for more free or bonus food stamps.

Trainor said some participants under-report household expenses like rent and utility payments to their disadvantage. He noted that such costs are considered when determining eligibility for the federally-sponsored food stamps program.

Those applying for food stamps can deduct expenses like income taxes, Social Security payments, union dues, medical expenses, child care (only if employed or in job training), educational expenses like tuition, support and alimony payments, and any unusual expenses (for example, property destroyed by fire).

Applicants then are permitted to deduct any shelter or household costs that exceed 30 per cent of total income on hand after the above allowed deductions are made.

Household costs include mortgage payments and interest charges, real estate taxes, and utilities like electricity, heating or cooking fuel, water, garbage disposal and basic service fee for one telephone.

The difference between a household's total income and the allowed expenses is the net income on which food stamp eligibility is determined.

For example, if the net income of a family of four is $500, that household is entitled to $162 in food stamps every month ($128 in purchased stamps and $34 in free stamps). The lower the net income, the more free food stamps are awarded, Trainor pointed out.

The number of stamps that can be purchased each month, and the number of bonus or free stamps awarded, depends on the size of families and the total household income.

Income includes wages, salaries earned in job-training programs, retirement and pension payments, stock dividends, employment compensation, etc.

The food stamp program allows families or persons with low income to buy food stamps and get extra stamps free.

Food stamps can be used for food, or for seeds and plants in home gardens that produce food. Coupons cannot be used for liquor, beer, cigarettes, tobacco, pet food, paper products or household supplies or for payment of all grocery bills.

Coupon books are sold at post offices, currency exchanges and selected banks.

They are available in the following denominations: $2, $7, $10, $20 and $35.

Application for food stamps may be made at any public aid county or district office.

Kiwanis seek new members

A goal of 20 new members was established by the Evening Kiwanis Club at its meeting Monday in Charlie's Restaurant.

Kiwanian Allen Jessoe is chairman of the club's membership drive.

A preliminary report of the group's boat races, held on Horseshoe Lake, indicated the event was successful. The moneys raised by the event are used during the year to sponsor local civic projects.

The club donated money to the Calhoun Mound Council Boy Scouts of America to help disadvantaged boys in the local scouting program.

Jackson walking tightrope in decision to probe Daley

Congressional investigators have been given subpoena power and the green light to resume their probe into possible misuse of federal funds by Chicago police units which allegedly conducted surveillance and kept dossiers on persons unrelated to criminal activity.

MRS. JANET CROWLEY

Mrs. Crowley is EIU graduate

Mrs. Janet Crowley, 1101 Hawkins, Galesburg, Ill., formerly of Granite City, received a master of science degree in education with a major in instructional media at graduation ceremonies at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Ill.

She previously received a bachelor of science in education at EIU.

Mrs. Crowley is the former Janet Kline, a daughter of the late Melvin Kline and Mrs. Jennie Hall. She is a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School.

The former resident is now employed as an instructional materials center director at Gale Middle School, Galesburg. Her husband, Charles Crowley is a mathematics teacher and assistant basketball coach at Williamsfield, Ill.

This was announced by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who worked out a compromise with Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, of which Percy is the top-ranking Republican.

The committee has authorized an investigation by the General Accounting Office to see if law enforcement assistance and revenue sharing funds were used for such allegedly improper police activity by the Chicago department.

The GAO reported back initially that some such use of the federal funds appeared likely, but that — without the legal authority to subpoena Chicago police records — the GAO would be unable to provide a complete report.

A spokesman for Percy said the compromise worked out with Jackson gives the GAO the necessary subpoena power and broadens the probe to nine other cities.

Four of the cities — Baltimore, District of Columbia, Philadelphia and Houston — reportedly have experienced similar police intelligence activities.

The other five — Los Angeles, New York, Detroit, Dallas and Cleveland — were selected because they round out the GAO investigation to include the nation's 10 largest cities.

However, one committee official acknowledged privately that Sen. Jackson "threw in the other nine cities" so it would not look as if he is "picking on Mayor Daley's Chicago," where Jackson, as a Presidential candidate, would hope to have Daley's political support.

Trade office to aid Illinois firms' sales in S. America

The opening of a foreign trade office to service the export of Illinois products for the first time throughout South America has been announced by the State Department of Business and Economic Development.

The office will be located in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and will be headed by Henry Smallwood, former director of marketing and sales for Pan-American Airlines in South America.

Pisciotte also announced the addition of one staff member to the department's International Trade Office in Hong Kong.

He is Henry Green of Chicago, a Republican who was rejected several months ago by the State Senate for a seat on the Illinois Board of Education.

A participant in the 1970 State Constitutional Convention, Green has a banking and agricultural background and was selected after over eight months of interviewing of a number of persons for that position, Pisciotte said.

receiving training in Chicago, Springfield and Washington, D.C., and will leave for their respective offices the first part of September.

Illinois, currently with one BED staff member in Hong Kong and four in its Brussels office, is this nation's number one exporting state.

"The promotion of business contacts and markets throughout South America will be a major boost to the economy of Illinois and has unlimited prospects."

"The addition of a second person representing the Department of Business and Economic Development, Mitchell, Green was badly needed due to expanding demand for state exports in the Far East," Pisciotte told the Press-Record.

Smallwood formerly was director general of the Mexican National Tourist Council, director of Overseas Marketing in Latin America for Pan American World Airways, district director in Sao Paulo, Brazil, for Pan Am and assistant traffic and sales manager for the airline in Rio de Janeiro.

Green, raised on a farm in Champaign County, has worked in the areas of development and promotion in Champaign-Urbana as a bank president and director, chairman of the East Central Illinois Junior College Steering Committee, director of development for Parkland College and past president of the Urbana Chamber of Commerce.

EQUIPMENT THEFT

Carlos D. Bettis, 738 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Department at 11:10 a.m. Monday the theft of a rototiller valued at $281, a lawnmower worth $62 and a mini-bike worth $250.

Dale A. Johnson new Eagle Scout

Dale A. Johnson, 14, son of Major and Mrs. John Johnson of Granite City, received his Eagle Scout award at a court of honor held at the Granite City Army Installation where his father has been stationed for the past three years.

Dale is a member of Boy Scout Troop 7 sponsored by St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Scoutmaster David Warren, after the introduction of guests, reported on the qualifications of the candidate such as proficiency in crafts and skills, earning of 24 merit badges (Dale earned 40) and leadership skills and good character.

Eagle Johnson has served as quartermaster, patrol leader and senior patrol leader of his troop. He also served on the staff as a trainee at Camp Sunken this summer.

His Eagle service project consisted of repairing and painting the playground equipment for the children at the local army installation.

Mrs. Myrna Geisler read a poem stressing the hard work it takes to earn the Eagle award and the pride and honor the Eagle Scout badge gives the one who wears it.

After Dale reaffirmed his promises in the Scout Oath, G. Rollin Henn, past president of the Cahokia Mound Council made the official presentation.

Major Johnson presented the Eagle Scout certificate from the National BSA court of honor. Dale presented his mother with a miniature Eagle Scout pin.

Bike thefts are big business Monday in GC

Eight bicycles with an estimated value of nearly $700 were reported stolen Monday from private homes and outside business firms in Granite City.

In three instances the thieves were observed leaving the scene of the theft.

A blonde curly-haired youth wearing a green shirt and blue jeans was seen leaving a home in the 2700 block of Saratoga Avenue riding a 10-speed boy's white bicycle, worth $80, it was reported at 1:15 p.m. Monday by the owner, Tom Ponder, 2227 Bern Ave.

A 27-inch boy's green bicycle, valued at $116, belonging to Tammy Fossum, 2127 Hamilton Drive, was taken from Gassen's Drug Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center just before noon Monday. A witness saw a youth about 17 years old with a long curly black hair, wearing blue jeans and a sleeveless shirt, load the 10-speed machine into a white car and drive away.

Kevin Kirksey, 3383 Kilarney Ave., reported Monday that a thief stole his 10-speed yellow bicycle from the front yard. The 27-inch bike was seen in the trunk of an auto leaving the scene.

Ruth Young, 2417 Bromley Ave., reported the theft of a 30-inch red, white and blue bicycle, valued at $54, from her home at 1 p.m. Monday.

David White, 2132 Harrison Ave., said his 24-inch, three-speed model, worth $64, was stolen from a bike rack outside the K-Mart Store about 1 p.m. Monday.

John Besserman, 2445 Center St., reported at 5:50 p.m. Monday, two 10-speed models, one blue and one white, were stolen from his garage, together with a ripsaw.

Leon Richardson, 3037 Dale Ave., also told police Monday that a 26-inch boy's bicycle, worth $115, was taken from the driveway at his home.

Americana '76 Masquer theme

Masquers, Inc., has completed plans for its fifteenth theater season.

The 1975-76 season will include two musicals, a children's show and a drama. The "South Pacific" will be produced in September under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Pennell of Granite City. "Tom Sawyer" will be directed by Jim Swanick of Collinsville, a Grigby Junior High School teacher, in November.

"The Glass Menagerie" will be staged in April under the direction of Chuck Norris of Belleville. And the season will conclude with "1776," directed by Mrs. Rogers D. Melford of Granite City.

The Masquers' upcoming season is centered around a theme of "Americana."

The group chose "South Pacific" because of its World War II setting. The play has additional historical significance to the Masquers, as it was the first musical produced by the theatrical group.

"Tom Sawyer" recalls the carefree childhood of a young boy growing up in early 19th Century Missouri. "The Glass Menagerie" is set in St. Louis during the 1920s. Both plays were chosen because of their significance to the history of this region.

"1776" is a musical comedy based on events surrounding the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It will be performed in mid-June, close to the 200th anniversary of the events it recalls.

Representatives of the Masquers serve on the entertainment committee of Collinsville's Bicentennial Commission. All Masquer productions of the 1975-76 season are official events in Collinsville's celebration of the U.S. bicennial.

Auditions for all plays are open to any interested persons. "South Pacific" is currently in the production stage, and tryouts for future productions will be announced.

Appointment to Venice Park board due in meeting Friday

The Venice Park Board will appoint a park district resident as a member Friday night during its regular monthly meeting at Lee Park Recreation Hall.

The appointment will be made to fill a position vacated by Willie Teal who resigned last month to accept a position as the Park District's recreation director.

The member appointed tomorrow will serve in that capacity until April 1977, the remaining period of Teal's six year term to which he was elected in 1971.

All park district board members are elected by the public to six-year terms with positions expiring alternately every two years.

An exception is that a person appointed to the board to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of an elected member can serve as an appointee only until the next scheduled election, which at Venice will be in 1977.

During the election last April, John F. Mitchell was re-elected to a fourth term on the board and was serving as its president, and Mrs. Valeta Teal's and that of Clifford Bauder was elected to serve as a board member. Mitchell subsequently resigned.

At a special meeting of the board on July 10, board member Peter Ponce was named to succeed Mitchell as president, and Mrs. Mary Frances Bauder was appointed to serve in Mitchell's capacity as a member until the 1977 election.

Teal resigned from the board to accept the park recreation director job which was vacated when Charles R. Simmons submitted a verbal resignation in June.

The 1977 election will fill two expiring regular terms on the board, that of Clifford Bauder who is now serving as the board's vice-president.

It also will serve to elect a member to fill Mitchell's unexpired term as a member, which is now being filled by Mary Bauder. Mitchell's full term expires in 1981.

Ponce's term of office expires in 1978, and Valeta Bauder's in 1981.

"A lot can happen that could directly affect the next election," Ponce said, "not only in our district but in every park district throughout the state."

He was referring to two legislative measures passed by the Illinois General Assembly. The bills now await approval or disapproval by Governor

Dan Walker.

One proposal would amend the park district code to reduce terms of park commissioners from six to four years. The other proposal would authorize park districts to increase the size of its board from five to seven members, either by referendum or by a board resolution.

"I think six years is too long a period for a member to serve and I am in favor of reducing the term," Ponce said.

Negotiations set Friday in credit union strike

A negotiating session between representatives of the Granite City Steel Employees Federal Credit Union and seven striking employees will be held Friday in an effort to resolve a dispute over a salary increase, it was reported Tuesday by Clyde Boyd, United Steelworkers business representative.

Boyd said the seven employees went on strike Monday and set up a picket line to enforce demands for a salary increase of 30 cents an hour this year and an additional 30 cents next year in a two-year contract. The credit union has offered 20 cents this year and 15 cents next year, he said.

The credit union employees are members of the United Steelworkers Union.

Ernest Eli, president of the credit union, said he had no comment on the walkout at this time, pending Friday's meeting.

Boyd said the company has offered a salary increase of 20 cents this year and 15 cents next year. Clerks presently receive $5.80 per hour and senior clerks receive $4.05.

A strike at the credit union which began in June 1974 lasted three weeks and was believed to have been the first strike at a federal credit union in Illinois.

Traffic signal is not Madison responsibility

The electric traffic signal at the intersection of Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue will no longer be maintained by the City of Madison, according to a letter sent Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff by Madison Mayor Mike Saak.

Palchiff, at a special board meeting Tuesday evening read the letter in which Mayor Saak noted that the traffic signal did not serve the taxpayers of Madison, but rather is used almost exclusively by residents of Nameoki Township. Cost of operating the traffic signal rightfully belonged to Nameoki Township citizens and the school district, the letter said. Palchiff was instructed to arrange a meeting with Township Supervisor Louis Whisland to discuss the operation of the traffic signal.

William Campbell, 101 Third St., Venice, was hired as a mathematics teacher at the Madison High School during the meeting Tuesday night.

Campbell graduated in 1969 from MHS. He also will assist in coaching football and baseball. He attended Belleville Area College and received his bachelor of science degree in education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

DeMolays to attend conclave

The James Stuart Chapter Order of DeMolay at its regular meeting Tuesday night, chaired by Master Councillor Anthony Tsigranoff, made plans to attend the 47th annual State Conclave on the campus of Western Illinois University at Macomb, Aug. 15-17.

The theme of the conclave "Illinois DeMolay Salutes America" is to mark the nation's bicentennial year. Delegates will be housed in the 20-story air-conditioned Higgins Hall on campus.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, members were urged to sell tickets for their final car wash at G & G Car Wash, 930 Madison Ave., Madison, on Sunday, Aug. 17 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tickets must be bought from a DeMolay and not at the car wash. Proceeds are for the chapter's operating and conclave expense.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Jo Meyer, consumer information representative for Illinois Power gave a program on "Flags on Parade" — a panoramic color slide history of the flags of America from the colonial period to the present. A Bicentennial year service by the Knights Templar of the U.S.A.

The annual watermelon feed by the Mother's Club followed the program.

Need for SIU division unique, not precedent-setting

As this was being written yesterday, Governor Walker had not yet acted on the legislation — passed by large margins in the Illinois House and Senate — to create separate boards of trustees for the two Southern Illinois Universities, Edwardsville and Carbondale. He may wait for a recommendation in September by the Governance Committee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

It is widely hoped and believed here that the governor will act on the merits of the legislation, rather than giving excessive consideration to the current illness of SIUE President Rendleman or to the hue and cry raised by some higher education leaders.

Backers of the proposal for two separate boards are noting that virtually all of the opposition is centering not on the specific situation but on an assumption that a precedent would be set, unleashing an avalanche of other board fragmentations.

The contention that the division would be imitated elsewhere certainly could be debated, and it seems doubtful that General Assembly would go on a reckless spree, harmful to effective administration of this state's public universities.

The central point remains that the two SIU campuses are a unique grouping that from its start was intended to be short-lived.

The local urban, commuter complex was aided materially in its infancy by the expertise of the larger, dormitory-oriented university that has served the primarily rural region surrounding Carbondale since the previous century. But ten-year-old SIUE was not ready and able to stand on its own and could best serve its region and state with a board focused on its programs.

Another unique aspect is that the SIU staff system's cost pattern exceeds that of any university in Illinois. The reduction from three to two administrations undoubtedly would bring substantial savings to taxpayers.

First floor of hospital wing honors late Lyle Gulley

The decision to name the first floor of the new Doctors' Wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital in memory of Lyle F. Gulley is highly appropriate.

In addition to extensive service to the hospital and to this community prior to his untimely death in September 1973, Mr. Gulley was a pioneer industrial manager and executive here.

Coming to Granite City in 1936, he served in high positions at the National Enameling and Stamping Co. before joining Granite City Steel in 1951.

At the steel plant he served in increasingly important posts and advanced to the presidency in 1968. He retained that office after the 1971 merger with National

Bicentennial emphasizes individual effort

In the following interview, John Warner, administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, discusses plans for the nation's birthday.

Question: How big is your organization?
Answer: We have a staff of 140 on the official rolls of the Civil Service Commission.

Q: And we have an annual budget of $10 million of which $1.3 million goes directly to the states for the support of their Bicentennial commissions.
A: Our function on the federal level is to coordinate and stimulate nationwide Bicentennial activity, to work with the various federal departments and agencies each of which have some Bicentennial program of their own.

Q: How are the states doing?
A: It varies. California is the only state, really, that is not supporting the Bicentennial.

Q: What do you mean by not supporting?
A: In terms of dollars. It is the only state that has not made an appropriation to the Bicentennial.

Q: And what is the money for?
A: That money is for the Bicentennial commissions in each state to divide among the various projects.

Q: For the last several years, Uncle Sam has given every state $25,000 to support the Bicentennial. But then Congress set up our administration and appropriated $11 million to be divided between the 50 states, the territories, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Self-discipline necessary during inflation, unemployment problems

The American economy is in a painful dilemma — last year we had 12 per cent inflation; this year, we have 9 per cent unemployment.

We used to be able to get 4 per cent or better on both, but now we have a very dismal choice between unbearable high inflation and unbearable high unemployment.

What can we do about this bad situation? There are no easy answers; we need patience and stoicism.

The Arab oil cartel has forced up oil prices, and we are still getting delayed price increases in coal and the regulated utilities.

There is nothing we can do about it except wait until our oil companies drill for enough oil, all around the world, to produce big enough oil surpluses to force the OPEC oil producing cartel to crack.

In effect, we are in a hole and are desperate. We will not only pay billions to the Arab monopolists, but must also absorb real resource costs in drilling wells, laying pipelines, etc., so we do not remain forever under their thumb.

In the meantime, people's real wages have declined 5 per cent; money wages have gone up, but they have lagged well behind inflation.

We have to recognize that we simply cannot all catch up, because the resources are not there.

What I fear most is that as a society will not be able to cope with the situation, that there will be strikes, confrontations and militance from unions and other organized groups, all demanding that their share of the total pie be shrunk.

I also fear shortsighted political actions which will alleviate problems today at the expense of breakdowns later.

We can see this in the railroads, for instance; for years, their profits were held down. They were forced to skimp on maintenance, and in many streetcar lines the trains can only run at 10 miles per hour. That's a heck of a way to run a railroad.

There are three other minor causes of our present economic troubles, as well as the oil crisis.

Firstly, we had to devalue the dollar. This was inevitable, but it meant that the price of imports from Japan and Germany cars and steel, and a lot of other products.

Secondly, we are still suffering the "hangover" from the price controls of 1971-73. Some of these price controls collapsed early, like the beef prices, but others seemed to distill steel, later assuming more limited duties due to ill health.

First layman to serve on the governing board, the top decision-making body of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Mr. Gulley also was the initial layman to head the governing board, a tradition that has continued. He served as co-chairman of the most recent campaign to finance major modernization and expansion of the hospital.

Lyle F. Gulley's longtime association with this community lives on in the hearts and minds of those who knew him, and a tradition that he perpetuated in the hospital facilities that he did so much to make into a reality.

Foreign sales of our grain are again in the news — resulting in statements from Mr. Meany and Mr. Gleason that the same farmer who remains in the United States.

Farmers agree that conditions in this nation should be of top priority. Concern for farmers and the price they have to pay for their grain, for tractor, etc., was not uttered by these men as U.S.-produced fertilizer and equipment were loaded on ships for export to a foreign country.

The result was that nitrogen fertilizer, selling for a little over $400 per ton, was sold for $180 per ton and did not slow down in some instances until a $400 per ton price was approached.

A large part of these tons of nitrogen fertilizer were the same ones loaded aboard ships, exported to a foreign buyer, returned to American ports unloaded and then sold to the American farmer — the same farmer who was charged with the responsibility of feeding this nation and at a price less than the cost per bushel of wheat.

We resisted the temptation to cut production of all crops this year — 1975. The temptation was present due to government interference with foreign sales of grain.

Farmers again caught in a squeeze

This government action drove the speculators out of the grain trade and farmers took the loss.

The statements of recent days caused the same conditions in the market place. Failure to export our surplus grain could result in a glut of grain for food here, due to fewer farmers producing less food products.

There are less labor and materials in a compact car that sells for three to four times the price (weight-wise) of wheat. The time has arrived when the cost of wheat is the most tight their belts — we will tighten ours as tight as anyone else.

This shouldn't be too difficult for farmers, as they have been doing this for most of the 200 years this nation has been in existence.

Belt tightening alone may not be enough. We need to sell our products to other nations in quantities that will at least equal the dollar value of our purchases from foreign countries.

Rifleman hit 'Briton's nose'

From the New England Chronicle, Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 6, 1975, 28th anniversary.

Last Tuesday came to town from Philadelphia and joined the army of the United States, a company of 100 rifle men. Many hundreds more are daily expected.

The following paragraph, from one of the last Philadelphia papers, will give the public an idea of their purpose.

"A correspondent informs us that one of the gentlemen appointed to command a company of RIFLE MEN to be raised in one of our frontier counties, had so many applications from the people in this neighborhood to be enrolled for the service, that a

New bishop for farm with urban issues

(St. Louis Review) A. McNicholas, auxiliary bishop of St. Louis since 1969 and named bishop of the Springfield, Ill., Diocese by Pope Paul VI, is to assume the new post in early September.

The Apostolic Delegate in the U.S., Archbishop Jean Jadot, announced in Washington, D.C. that the Pope had accepted the resignation of Bishop William A. O'Connor, bishop of Springfield for 26 years, for reasons of age.

Bishop O'Connor is 71. Bishop McNicholas, 52, was disclosed concurrently as successor.

Bishop McNicholas said he has great respect for the retiring Bishop O'Connor, that he has known a number of Springfield priests, and has frequently greeted persons from that diocese when they visited the Old Cathedral on the riverfront, where he has been pastor since 1969.

The statement expressed gratitude to the people of St. Louis, and also to John Joseph Cardinal Carberry, noting that "working with him as auxiliary bishop has been a most enlightening and instructive experience."

Cardinal Carberry thanks priests, sisters, brothers and the laity.

"In every assignment and in every task I have undertaken, I have been supported and encouraged by the people of this great community."

"I pray that God will bless each and every one of them and that they shall always be remembered in their prayers," he said.

His new diocese, however, extends to the east as Madison County, and I expect to be around Bush Stadium, for the Cardinals, both football and baseball," he said.

In a review of his life in St. Louis, "The high point, without a doubt, was my ordination as a priest in June 1948."

"I always said, being a priest is the most wonderful life in the world. God uses you in no other job so fully as he does professionally, in working to help people."

He reiterated the sentiment he first expressed in 1969, at his ordination to the episcopacy in the St. Louis Cathedral: "It's good to be a bishop, but it's even better to be a priest today," and further thanked Cardinal Carberry for his guidance and support in recent years.

"I think it is a definite responsibility to be a bishop, not negatively criticizing, but working positively — for peace."

He noted that "by far, the biggest problem is apathy (to social problems), and as a bishop, we have the duty not only to inspire people to the rewards of eternal life, but to inspire them to work for the protection of human life and the dignity of human beings here on earth and to seek appropriate legislation for their welfare."

He added further that "while I may know my way around a few offices in Jefferson City, I am not an expert in a complete rookie in Springfield."

He has no specific plans for the Diocese of Springfield.

"My first ambition is to get to meet the priests, religious and lay people," noting that eight of the diocese's 150 priests are classmates of his from Kenrick Seminary, where they took their theology studies.

He commented that the diocese ranks high in the number of adult Catholics — 600 last year, "which I think is a tribute to the priests of the diocese."

There are 141 parishes in the diocese, a high school, a diocesan seminary and Quincy College in Quincy.

Cardinal Carberry told news reporters that it would be up to Pope Paul if any local replacement would be named auxiliary bishop, or who it might be.

The Cardinal noted, "While we shall feel his departure from his beloved St. Louis very keenly, nevertheless I and our auxiliary bishops and the faithful are aware of the distinguished qualities of mind and heart which he possesses."

He noted that Bishop O'Connor is a friend from the days when both studied in Rome.

"We will rejoice, we know, in the fact that he can lay down his burdens in the realization that a strong bishop, resembling himself in many ways, will give himself unreservedly to the solicitude of the church in Springfield," the Cardinal said.

He made special mention of Bishop McNicholas' affection for fellow priests, for religious, for people of all race and for the people expressing the conviction that those qualities will continue to be evident in Springfield.

Springfield, Bishop O'Connor issued a statement expressing gratitude to Pope Paul and noting that he has known Bishop McNicholas for 26 years.

"His deep faith and love of the church are well known," Bishop O'Connor said.

"He is energetic, enthusiastic, unpretentious and friendly."

"We will enjoy working with our good priests, devoted religious and faithful people as I have for many years. They will have a priest, pastoral and zealous bishop to serve them."

He added that the Springfield Diocese "should not have to slow down because of my advancing age," and that "our joy is tempered only by the loss to St. Louis."

"We thank Cardinal Carberry and the Archdiocese of St. Louis for the great gift of one of their finest priests and bishops."

A widely known priest even before appointed auxiliary bishop in 1969, Bishop McNicholas is a Missouri native, born in Most Holy Rosary Parish in north St. Louis Jan. 13, 1923.

At the age of two his family moved to Mount Carmel, Ill., in the far eastern portion of the St. Louis Diocese, where his father sold hardware in the Illinois-Indiana area for the Simmons Hardware Co. of St. Louis.

He attended St. Mary Parish School in Mount Carmel and three years of high school, returning to St. Louis in 1940, the year after his father died at age 45 of a heart attack.

He graduated in 1941 from the old McGrath High School, entered the Archdiocesan seminary in Shreveport.

He was ordained June 1, 1949, by Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter and served as associate pastor at the St. Louis Cathedral Parish, and then at Most Holy Rosary Parish.

He received a master of social work degree from St. Louis University in 1957.

For nearly 12 years he served in the Catholic Charities' department of children, with assignments as chaplain, St. City Juvenile Court and continued interest in various child and social welfare work.

He was active in efforts to get the Missouri Legislature to pass the ADP welfare law.

He was a board member of the Human Development Corporation, of the Health and Welfare Council and the St. Louis Civil Alliance for Housing, in addition to serving as member and then secretary of the Archdiocesan Priests' Council from its founding in 1966 until 1970.

He has been especially interested in devotion to the Blessed Sacrament, and helped organize the Legion of 1,600 Men in 1969.

He was named auxiliary bishop in 1969, and ordained to that post by Cardinal Carberry March 25, 1969.

In June of that year he became pastor of the Old Cathedral, supervising the restoration of that historic church and developing it as a focal point for downtown religious activities, including special "Football" Masses timed to serve Catholics attending Sunday football games at the nearby stadium.

Since 1970 he has been total coordinator for the annual Bishops' Campaign for Human Development, and has also served as Episcopal Vicar of the city, giving attention to the archdiocese to particular needs of city parishes.

In 1972 he was appointed chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Ad Hoc Committee for Liaison with the National Council of Black Catholics, a post he still holds.

Last November, he was elected chairman for a two-year term of the U.S. Bishops' Committee on Social Development and World Peace.

I'm starting a business and expect to hire one or two employees. What kinds of tax records should I keep on these employees?

You must keep all records pertaining to the amounts you deduct from their salaries for Federal and state income tax and social security tax. No particular form of records is required but they should include:

the amounts and dates of all wage payments subject to these taxes, the names, addresses and occupations of employees receiving such payments and the periods of their employment;

the dates and amounts of deposits made for these taxes, if any. You should keep such records at least four years after the date the tax to which they relate becomes due or is paid, whichever is later.

Should a young man . . . ?

There were no marriage counselors in Illinois a hundred years ago, nor were newspapers filled with column after column of advice on everything from sex to senility.

But one paper, the Chicago Inter Ocean, in the early summer of 1895 published a letter to the editor on the subject of marriage that provoked a flood of correspondence from readers.

The specific question was: "Should a young man consider marrying on a salary of $1,200 a year?"

A check of the files of the Inter Ocean in the Illinois State Historical Library at Springfield shows that a column or more of letters appeared every three or four days throughout the summer. Most of them came from Illinois, but there were others from as far away as Des Moines and Waterloo, Ia., North Platte, Neb., and Janesville, Wis.

By far, the majority agreed that $1,200 a year was more than was necessary. Most set the minimum figure at $800, and some even lower than that.

Several summarized their own financial results of their own matrimonial experiences, and one Chicago suburbanite gave a complete accounting of his housekeeping record for the previous five years.

A male women's libber from Rock City, Ill., suggested that "proposing (marriage) is a monopoly now, and why not give the girls the right to ask the men? If they had the privilege of seeking partners, would not better unions be the result?"

Only a few of the writers signed their letters; usually they used initials or a pseudonym.

One of the earlier letters, signed by "G" of Chicago, said: "The questions should be, 'Can a young man prudently marry on a salary of from $400 to $600 a year?' The majority of men in Chicago, both single and married, do not receive above $2 a day for their labor."

"Twelve hundred dollars a year income! That is princely. Half the business men in Chicago would go out of business at once could they get employment at $1,200 or even $800 a year."

"So, Corner" from North Platte, Neb., wrote, "I count among my acquaintances several young married people who do not begin to get $1,200 per year, and yet, you go into their homes and you will find them with all the necessities of life, comfortable clothes, and a very little house of their own at a salary of $600 to $800 per annum."

A Moline reader wrote, "It is now about eight years since we commenced keeping house, started to begin with, paying about $150 per year. . . . Two years after we bought a lot on favorable terms, put up a $200 house."

"I built the house myself at odd times, except a very few days I employed a carpenter. Every spring, summer and fall I work early and late making improvements."

He added that his receipts would "not average over $700 per year," he had four children, and the house and its 1 1/2-acre lot were valued at $2,200.

The Chicago suburbanite — his letter was dated "Chicago" and signed "Suburban" — said that living on the $1,200 figure "is an impossibility." His average expenses were $1,284 and he added, "My family consists of a wife and two children, and of the year a servant, called 'a girl.'"

"I own my own place and have no rent to pay (his taxes were $20 a year); a cow and have no milk or butter to buy, and a garden." Some of his larger expenses were: groceries, $286; meat, $78; clothing (for four), $218; "girl," $128; and doctor, $42. He said also his figures included "nothing for charity, or church purposes, insurance, interest, cost of keeping cow and hens" all of which would have brought his total "to fully $1,400."

On Product Safety council

Tom Donahoe, manager of the Grant City store at 20 Nameoki Village, has announced that James L. Campbell, quality assurance director for W. T. Grant Co., was selected from among many hundreds of nominees to serve, effective last month, as an industry representative on the Product Safety Advisory Council for a minimum two year period.

The Product Safety Advisory Council, which reviews all major issues brought before the United States Consumer Product Safety Commission, is composed of 15 members, of which five are drawn from industry, five from consumer groups and five from government.

Campbell is one of nine new members joining the council and is one of the two newly appointed members representing industry. His selection marks the first time that a representative from a major nationwide retail chain was selected to serve on the council.

Campbell joined the Grant Co. in 1982 and served in a number of store management and merchandising capacities. On July 1 he was appointed quality assurance director, having served previously as import standards director and subsequently international import director for W. T. Grant Co. since February 1974.

Through a series of meetings held in many parts of the world, he introduced the W. T. Grant Company's Product Certification program. This is a broad-based program to improve quality and safety, and assures compliance with federal regulations of products bought in world markets for distribution in the United States.

In October 1974, under the sponsorship of the Taiwan government, Campbell introduced the program to major manufacturers of that nation. Campbell also was instrumental in establishing a Consumer Protection Committee within the American Importers Association, Inc. and in June this year, he was elected to its board of directors.

Miss Theresa D. Stimac and Larry L. Schwarberg were united in marriage on Aug. 2 in an afternoon ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Edwardsville.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Stimac, who reside at Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, are formerly of Granite City.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Schwarberg, 2217 E. Reservoir, Springfield, Ill. The Rev. Roger J. Simpson performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock, before an altar adorned with palms and vases of white mums.

An all-classical service with Johann S. Bach's "Concerto in G Major" was furnished by the church organist.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of ivory chiffon over peau de soie, fashioned with an empire bodice of Chantilly lace embellished with tiny seed pearls.

A camelot cap held a fingertip veil, edged in matching lace, and she held a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and English ivy.

Honor attendant Mrs. Maria K. Gush and the bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Griffiths and Debbie L. Stimac, a sister-in-law of the bride, chose identical frocks of apricot Quiana, formal in length.

Their gowns were designed with sleeveless empire bodices and matching short-sleeved jackets enhanced with a pearl trim.

The Rev. Ralph Scherrer officiated at the double-ring service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar adorned with bouquets of white summer flowers intermingled with orchid, green, yellow and pink daisies.

Charles Pogorelac, a brother of the bride, escorted her down the white-carpeted aisle illuminated with burning tapers in tall candelabra.

For her wedding, the former Miss Pogorelac, chose a full-length ivory Nottingham lace gown fashioned with a circular yoke, edged in scalloped lace, to accent the molded bodice and high neckline.

Scalloped lace defined the slightly raised waistline and edged the cuffs of the long-tapered sleeves.

The graceful A-line skirt, also bordered with scalloped lace, swept into a cathedral train.

A Juliet cap of Venice lace etched with pearls secured her ivory fingertip veil and she held a colonial bouquet of white roses, baby's breath, stephanotis and festooned with satin streamers.

Mrs. Judy Kulassa, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant. She wore a long orchid gown of polyester interlock knit designed with an empire bodice and A-line skirt complemented with a bolero jacket fashioned with butterfly sleeves and V-yoke of ivory Chantilly lace.

The bridesmaids, Miss Christine Kelly, Miss Jane Taratjovic, Mrs. Mary Ann Hendrix, a sister of the groom and the flower girls Karen Hendrix and Kelly Watkins, wore identical dresses in mint green, yellow, pink apricot and blue hues.

Colonial bouquets of carnations, baby's breath and daisies in shades to match their attire was carried by the adult attendants. The flower girls carried white baskets of rose petals.

Rick Mueller attended the groom as best man. Jim Wright, Jim Hendrix, a brother-in-law of the groom, and Charles Pogorelac, the bride's brother, were groomsmen.

Jerry Mathes, a brother of the groom, and Ralph Watkins seated the guests. Gregory Kutay was the ringbearer.

A 6:30 evening reception was held at Holy Trinity Hall. Joyce and Michele Gushleff attended the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Madison High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is employed as a teacher at Sacred Heart Catholic School.

Her husband is an East St. Louis High School graduate and works as a switchman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Rocketry class uses mouse as space traveler

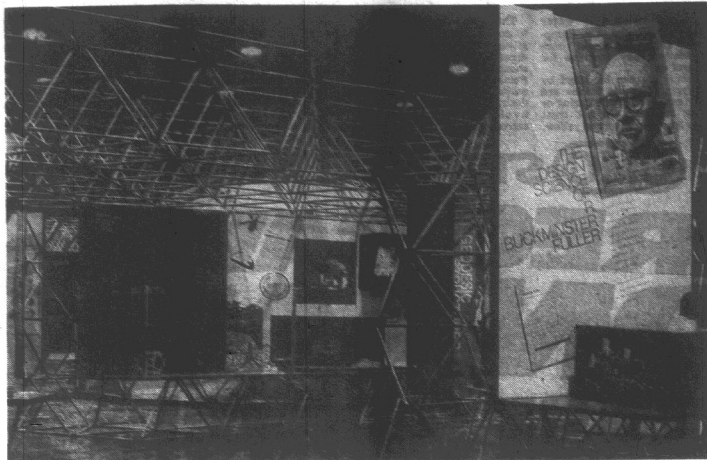

The countdown continued as the space-traveler at Coolidge Junior High School tried to escape. But his attempts were futile.

Alan Shepard was caught by the tail, slipped into the rocket and launched about 100 feet into the air. He parachuted to safety for the second time that day.

Alan is a white mouse who Laurent Ferrere, 15, of 3006 Wayne Ave., launched as part of an open-house demonstration given by fourth, fifth and sixth graders in the rocketry class taught in summer school at Coolidge. The classes were for "enriched" children (those who do exceptionally well in their studies).

About 300 children attended the summer school, which has been offering advanced classes for 10 years.

The rocketry class was one of about 15 courses which included Russian, speed reading, engine repair and an opera class which performed "The World of Hans Christian Andersen."

BUCKMINSTER FULLER EXHIBIT which will be at East St. Louis High School daily through Sept. 15. Formerly on the faculty of both Southern Illinois

Universities (Edwardsville and Carbondale), Fuller invented the geodesic dome and many other designs and concepts.

Sports collectors form club

Fred Roniger, Edwardsville, has been elected president and Jerome "Mimi" Alongi of DuQuoin has been elected vice-president of "The St. Louis Cards," the first association of sports collectors in the metropolitan area. The membership includes a number of Quad-City residents.

The election and final organizational steps were conducted in a meeting at Holiday Inn, Sunset Hill, and attracted members from as far as DuQuoin, Carbondale, Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Columbia, Mo.

Jim Hickerson, Roxana, was elected secretary and Frank Schlueter, St. Louis, was named publicity director.

The group will make plans for a 1978 convention in St. Louis during its next meeting Sept. 28 at Holiday Inn.

Persons in the Quad-City area interested in obtaining more information about the club may call Jack Cochran, 2030 Washington Ave., at 876-2485.

Exhibit inventive designs of 'world citizen' Fuller

The design science of R. Buckminster Fuller, a traveling exhibit organized by the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, currently is on display at the East St. Louis High School.

The exhibit is a "tribute to the ingenuity, ability and foresight of a 77-year-old American innovator who has become a legend in his own time."

In a professional career that has spanned a half-century, Fuller has excelled as an engineer, a designer, an architect, a mathematician, a planner, a philosopher, a lecturer and even a poet.

He has been called "a man for all seasons" and "a world citizen" and "a Renaissance man" because of the nature, scope and impact of his interests and achievements.

"Bucky" Fuller is considered a visionary who has been ahead of his time most of his life. Many of his imaginative ideas were not generally accepted when introduced, only to be widely praised a generation later.

As early as 1927, he was designing houses that incorporated such far-reaching features as suspension construction, air conditioning, built-in utilities, self-generating power, light-controlled room dividers and doors, and systems of compacting wastes and recycling water.

Fuller's streamlined car of 1933 made use of lightweight metals, air-frame chassis principles, rear steering, front-wheel drive, rear engine, air conditioning, shatterproof glass and periscope rear vision. And it was capable of a speed of 120 miles per hour.

The late-summer exhibition is an "attempt to capture the spirit of this man who has done so much to awaken our aesthetic, functional and humanistic sensibilities," a spokesman noted this week.

"The display covers many different areas of Fuller's philosophy. One of the most interesting and appropriate to this area is that of his 'domed cities' which he designed into a practical reality.

"The fourth exhibit contains a model of one such proposal — to enclose and redesign the city of East St. Louis."

Fuller sees a "domed autonomous community" replacing much of the existing community.

A model of the "old man river" project also is on display at the exhibit.

The display is open now through Sept. 15, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 12 noon to 6 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. The donation for adults is $1 and for children 12 and under, 25 cents.

Time for pasture renovation

By RON CORNWELL
Agricultural Adviser

Right now is the best time for pasture renovation in Southern Illinois. If a new pasture is being seeded, the best seeding time in the Madison County area is between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15.

Grass or remove most of the existing grass before renovating for more effective tillage. Prepare the seedbed by repeated disking to destroy existing sod. Disking is better than plowing for late summer renovation because disking leaves root and stubble trash near the surface to protect against erosion and aid in seedling emergence.

Herbicides or contact killers may be used alone or in combination with sod tillage.

For best results, disturb at least 40 to 60 per cent of the soil to establish clovers and 80 to 100 per cent for alfalfa, birdsfoot trefoil, and crownvetch.

Take a soil test to determine the soil nutrient deficiencies and apply the nutrients needed. A pH of around 6.5 to 6.8 is best for establishment of the more productive forage species. Apply needed P and K during the tillage process so that they can be thoroughly mixed with the soil. These two elements are needed for good root establishment. And they also aid in winter survival.

Plant seed of adapted varieties of high yielding legumes and grasses and recommended rates. Inoculate legumes with proper nitrogen-fixing bacteria.

A firm seedbed is essential—especially for food seed-soil contact. Seedbeds in renovated sods are often too loose for successful establishment because of trash in the surface. The use of a grain drill with press wheels or a cultipacker seeder will give good results.

For late summer renovation programs, do not graze or remove any of the growth this fall. New growth is needed for good root establishment and insulation during the coming winter months. Next spring, grazing can begin when growth is sufficient. And rotational grazing is best so that the high yielding legume can be maintained in the stand.

Where tillage is difficult or impossible, sod seeding or tilled strips may be tried to introduce legumes into an old grass pasture. Ladino clover, alfalfa, birdsfoot trefoil, and crownvetch can economically increase yields from low-producing, permanent pastures or neglected hillside, steep slopes, or eroded or stony soils.

Sod seeding appears to be more successful in Southern Illinois than other areas of the state.

A "brush" with poison ivy can be an uncomfortable experience. Poisoning is usually caused by contact with some part of the plant. The skin irritant of this plant is contained in its sap and danger of poisoning is greatest in spring and summer. A small quantity of the poisonous substance is capable of producing severe inflammation of the skin.

The poison also can be easily transferred from one object to another. Clothing may become contaminated and is often a source of repeated infection before the cause is discovered.

Dogs and cats may touch the plants and transmit the poison to people. The poison remains on the fur for a time after the animals have walked or run through poison ivy plants. Smoke from burning plants can carry the toxin and has been reported to cause severe poisoning.

Children have been poisoned by eating the fruit. The belief that eating a few leaves of these plants will develop immunity in the individual is unfounded. No part of poison ivy plants should ever be taken internally, as they are violently irritating and poisonous to man.

Cattle, horses, sheep, hogs, and other livestock apparently do not suffer from skin irritation caused by poison ivy, and they have been observed grazing on the foliage. Bees collect honey from the flowers, though no reports are on record of any ill effects from the use of such honey.

The time between contamination of the skin and the appearance of symptoms varies greatly with individuals and probably with conditions. Itching or a burning sensation may develop in a few hours or after several days. Delay in the development of usually develop into water blisters under the skin. Symptoms from a single contamination may continue for several days.

Poison ivy can be killed by spraying after the leaves are fully expanded in late spring or early summer. Do not treat after leaves have turned yellow.

The recommended chemicals to use are either amitrole-T or silvex according to label directions. All vegetation should be wetted thoroughly. Poison ivy is quite sensitive to amitrole-T, but spray drift to desirable vegetation should be avoided. Occasionally, retreatment is necessary the following year to completely kill the plants.

A new bull testing station is currently under construction at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The station will begin operation this fall. Cattle born between Feb. 15 and May 1, 1975, will be taken for testing on Oct. 30 and 31. They will begin test 21 days later. The test will terminate with a sale in April, 1976.

The new test station will be able to provide feed efficiency data for each bull tested in addition to the usual growth performance information. For added information on the test station, a beef producer should contact Dr. Jim Molan, Department of Animal Industries, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. Western Illinois University has been operating a test station for several years. Either test station can handle 72 bulls for both spring and fall test.

Unique continuing education program for region's nurses

With tremendous scientific and technological advances occurring almost daily in the field of health care and medicine, it is difficult for nurses to keep pace with the changes, according to Ina Ingwersen, director of continuing education in the School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"There are so many areas of improvement, new methods and new medications. Nurses have to be continuously brought up to date," she said.

In Illinois, nurses are expected to earn at least 20 continuing education units each year. To help them meet that responsibility, SIUE offers short courses and one-, two- and three-day workshops for nurses in Downstate and Central Illinois wishing to upgrade their basic nursing education.

"It is the professional responsibility of all nurses to be informed of the latest developments. Attendance at approved workshops is one way they can do it," Mrs. Ingwersen said.

Students meet in a variety of locations. Classes meet as far south as Cairo, Carbondale, Marion, Flora and Chester, as far east as Effingham, and as far north as Jacksonville.

They meet on college campuses, in community hospitals, on an Air Force base, at civic centers and even at motels. Mrs. Ingwersen feels that "taking the classes where the students are" is one of the reasons the program is such a success.

The people whom the university is hoping to reach—hospital nurses, community agency nurses, private nurses, and nursing home personnel—are not usually located near a college or university campus.

Because of time schedules, family responsibilities, distance or lack of money, it often is impossible for them to travel to the campus. The training program travels to them.

The first year the continuing education program was in operation at SIUE, it involved 10 workshops and attracted 31 participants. By the second year, the program had increased to 36 workshops and involved almost 3,000 participants.

During the first year of operation, the environment of the program included 34 Downstate Illinois counties. By July of this year, the program had expanded to include 63 counties. An additional 29 counties had nurses attending the workshops.

Much of the material studied during the short courses and workshops is based on the practical aspect of nursing with emphasis on patient care, Mrs. Ingwersen said.

Workshops have covered such topics as the demonstration of current equipment for the surgical patient, a study of problem-oriented medical records, hypertension, anxiety, communicable diseases and how to prevent community and hospital infections, the high-risk pregnant patient, legislation and licensure concerning the nurse, and conferences on the physiological or developmental problems.

Resource people to lead the workshops have been gleaned from experts in the field, Mrs. Ingwersen said. They are not restricted to members of the SIUE faculty.

Many short courses are scheduled for this fall. A short-term course on the nursing process will be offered in three locations for persons employed in nursing homes. The workshop will be held at Jacksonville Sept. 24, on Scott Air Force Base Oct. 28 and on the SIU at Carbondale campus Nov. 13.

A one-day workshop on gerontology has been scheduled for registered nurses at Jacksonville Oct. 8, Rend Lake College in Mount Vernon Oct. 13 and at the SIU at Edwardsville campus Nov. 14.

A short course on death and dying will be held at SIUE Oct. 9, 16, 23 and 30.

A two-day workshop on problem-oriented medical records (POMR), a new system of writing nursing notes for patients' charts, will be held at the local campus Oct. 21 and 29.

Mrs. Ingwersen said no other program like it exists in the state.

"Other schools provide varying degrees of continuing education for registered nurses, but none on such a far-reaching scale as SIUE," she said.

Chapin, Speedwagon, arts and crafts at River Fest next week

An arts and crafts exhibition, three appearances by the St. Louis Symphony, and rock concerts by Harry Chapin and R.E.O. Speedwagon will mark the seventh week of activities at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The arts and crafts exhibition Friday and Saturday, Aug. 15 and 16, will have over 55 craftsmen selling their wares as well as demonstrating and displaying such diverse crafts as macramé, ceramics, leather work, rug weaving, wood carving and many more.

The program begins at 4 p.m. the first day, and admission to the grounds is $3. The admission allows the patron to remain for the evening's R.E.O. Speedwagon concert.

The Saturday, Aug. 16, exhibition precedes an all-Bizet program by the St. Louis Symphony featuring Sandra Walker, mezzo soprano, and Robert Nagy, tenor. Admission to the exhibition, which begins at 3 p.m., is free until 6 p.m. After 6, admission is $2 and includes lawn seating for the Symphony performance.

Along with the crafts on display, there will be strolling musicians, a hot air balloon ascension, special dance presentations and other special events.

The three Symphony performances for the week will include Saturday's Bizet program, a special program Thursday, Aug. 14, featuring music from the ballet by Tchaikovsky, Bernstein and Ravel, and a Sunday (Aug. 17) performance with Peter Nero as pianist and conductor.

The Aug. 17 performance of the Symphony begins at 7:30 p.m. The other performances start at 8:30 p.m.

Appearing with the Symphony in its Thursday night (Aug. 14) appearance will be pianist Jeffrey Swann.

The 25-year-old Swann is the winner of numerous honors and triumphs on the rugged concert pianist trail, including the gold medal at a recent La Scala-sponsored First International Dino Ciani Competition in Milan, Italy.

Swann has, according to one critic, "just about everything one could ask from a pianist—dazzling technique, extreme accuracy, extraordinary control, beautiful variety of tone colors, and musical expressiveness."

Peter Nero, who started his musical career on a toy xylophone, has taken a place as one of the great pianists in the world, critics say. His abilities range from classical to pop, and in the last 15 years he has recorded more than two dozen albums and played and conducted many of the world's greatest orchestras.

He has performed and conducted his concerto, "Blue Fantasy," with such major symphonies as the Boston Pops, the Royal Philharmonic, the Cleveland Symphony, the Philadelphia Symphony, and others.

Harry Chapin, kicking off the week with his Monday, Aug. 11, performance, is known for his unique style, which uses lyrics to tell complete stories, not just evoke a mood.

His hit song, "Taxi," is an example of this style. Appearing with Chapin will be his brother, Tom, star of "Make A Wish" on network television.

On Friday (Aug. 15) at 8:30 p.m., R.E.O. Speedwagon will present its show. The group, which began in the late 1960s on the campus of the University of Illinois, has risen to international stature in recent years, fans of the group report.

The Speedwagon reached headline status during its 1972-73 tour, after its second album, "R.E.O. - T.W.O.," proved to be a major hit.

Neal Doughty, founder of the band, says he still "considers R.E.O. a 'live' band," one that performs best in front of audiences.

The dynamic live performances of the band's typically heavy duty rock style is said to attest to his statement.

Tickets for any of the week's activities are available at the SIUE box office or at any of the area's MRF ticket outlets, including the American National Bank and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

HARRY CHAPIN. The singer will be the star of the Mississippi River Festival concert series at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 11, at SIUE.
